The Christmas Story

Illustrated by Hal Foster

Now the Roman decree proclaimed a tax and Joseph, being of the House of David, must go to Bethlehem to register. It was hard on a young girl in Mary's condition; through the rain and snow of winter from far Nazareth to the Jordan and down the torturous valley, down, down a thousand feet below the level of the sea; then up the valley of the Kedron, past Jerusalem to Bethlehem. But Mary was happy and even sang to herself; for was it not foretold that the Messiah would be of the House of David and appear first in Bethlehem?

Giant Excavator's "Bite" Made 45 Cubic Yards for Experiment

Capacity of World's Largest Shovel Increased by Marion Company

Capacity of the world's largest shovel is being made five cubic yards greater in a spectacular experiment just begun in southeastern Ohio's coal stripping fields in Harrison county.

A 45-cubic yard dipper has just been installed on a Marion 5561 shovel owned by the Hanna Coal company to probe the "economic ultimate" of modified armor plate steel in power shovel dipper design and construction.

The joint experimenters are Marion Power Shovel company, long-time builder of the world's largest power shovels, and the Hanna Coal company. The big new dipper was delivered by truck late in October, and has been in use since December 1.

If the experiment is a success, a five-cubic yard load of earth and rock will be able to "hitch-hike" a free ride every minute as the shovel strips away overburden to uncover seams of coal lying as deep as 80 feet under the earth's surface. The five-yard increase in dipper capacity, incidentally, is the equivalent of an average-size dump truckload. By adding this much capacity to each of the one-minute digging cycles of the Marion 5561, the two companies hope to increase greatly the amount of stripping the big shovel can handle.

Previous Dipper Enlargement

Just two years ago, the Marion Power Shovel Co. made worldwide news by fabricating war-developed modified armor plate steel into a 40-cubic yard dipper. Prior to that, a 35-cubic yard dipper had been the world's largest, and only by using the new stronger steel in lighter sections could the increase to 40-yard capacity be achieved. Since that time, nine of the big 40-yard dippers have been built and placed in service. With their practicability fully proved and with field experience on hand to indicate that the new five-yard increase in capacity may be practical, the Marion and Hanna companies jointly undertook the experiment to "make the new dippers work a little harder" and learn whether a 45-yard dipper might prove as practical as the 40-yard.

Adrien F Busick, Jr., chief engineer for Marion Power Shovel Co., pointed out that "economical ultimate" of the modified armor plate steels being used will be learned through a study of several factors. One of these factors is weight. The new 45-cubic-yard dipper, fully loaded, weighs no more than the 35-cubic-yard dippers of three years ago, fully loaded. Consequently, the weight factor appears to be solved, provided the new dipper has sufficient strength in all of its component parts.

The test of the new dipper on Hanna property will be particularly interesting because of the high percentage of rock found in the overburden. If the new dipper proves itself in southeastern Ohio, it should be more than strong enough to hold its own wherever big stripping shovels are currently in use, Mr Busick said. Still a third factor, closely related to strength, is whether the new dipper will function day in and day out with a minimum of maintenance or repair service. The 40-yard dippers were given exhaustive opportunity to prove themselves on this score before it was felt wise to proceed with an experiment on a 45-yard dipper.

Excess Weight Eliminated

The 45-yard dipper was made possible through a complete redesign that stripped every possible pound of excess weight from the dipper and its handle. One substantial weight improvement was accomplished by substituting the armor plate steel for cast manganese in the construction of the dipper lip, a part that is subject to extreme wear, according to Marion and Hanna engineers. The new war-born steel has proved itself sufficiently resistant to abrasion to justify this change. The new dipper is almost 100 per cent armor plate steel.

Along with the redesign to eliminate excess weight, the dipper underwent a number of appearance changes aimed at easier and more rapid filling of the dipper. Marion Power Shovel Co engineers borrowed an advantage from the conventional curved-blade ditching spade to help the new dipper fill itself more quickly and more easily. In the earlier big dippers, the row of dipper teeth was curved only slightly, but in the 45-yard dipper, the curve is more pronounced. This change in design should enable the dipper to enter the bank and fill itself more readily.

Even to persons watching it at work, the 45-cubic yard dipper is almost beyond comprehension. Perhaps the easiest way to visualize the size of its load is to mentally measure off the dimension of a room 11 feet wide, 14 feet long and 8 feet high (about the size of a living room in most Studebaker-size houses). The 45-yard dipper could fill such a room with earth and rock in one bite. Or it could overflow the average one-stall garage. Then, imagine this giant bite being lifted into the air, swung two-thirds of a city block and dumped on top of a seven-story building. That's what the Marion 5561 can do when equipped with the new experimental dipper.

Shock-Absorbing Hinges

Every part of the 45-yard dipper design and construction posed special problems. One typical example is the design of the three giant hinges on which the dipper door swings. A triple-deck "sandwich" of rubber and steel makes up the special bushings for these hinges and provides a shock-absorbing quality not otherwise obtainable.

Marion Power Shovel Co. officials point out that the ever-increasing size of shovel dippers may be near the ultimate until and unless new materials are developed that have weight-strength ratios not now obtainable. They add that today's efforts to make bigger dippers are not aimed entirely at the production of more coal than was previously possible with big machines, but to offset partially the increasing operating difficulties of top miners who, having years ago removed most of the shallow veins of any consequence, are now forced to develop veins covered by increasingly deeper blankets of earth, shale and rock.

When will the big new dipper no longer be regarded as an experiment? With gigantic machinery involved, no conclusions will be drawn until the big dipper has thoroughly proved itself, Marion Power Shovel officials say. They estimate that probably will be six months from now.

A&P STORE OPENING NEAR

Finishing Touches Being Put on New N. Main Street Building.

Finishing touches are being applied to the new A & P food market at 485 North Main street which company officials report is expected to be opened for business next week.

Opening of the new modern super-market marks the return of the A & P company to Marion after a lapse of 20 months. The company store had been located on South Main street until March of last year. At that time the location was taken over by the Sears-Roebuck Co. farm store.

The new market on North Main street north of Mark street is situated on a block deep site extending from Main street west to North Prospect street, a lot depth of 348 feet. The site actually comprises two lots giving a frontage on both streets of 132 feet.

Erected to face on North Main street, the market has dimensions of approximately 190 by 80 feet. Constructed of concrete block faced with brick and cream colored tile, the modern layout is augmented by ample parking space for store patrons. An asphalt paved parking lot of approximately two acres in extent at the rear of the building has been laid out to accomodate at least 60 cars, accessible from either street.

Property To Be Leased

Work at the site which began in June has been handled by the owners of the building, the Knowlton Construction Co., of Bellefontaine from whom the property is leased by the A & P Co.

Inside arrangements of the super market will be familiar to persons who have had occasion to patronize the company stores in other cities, inasmuch as the inside layout is virtually identical in all of the new A. & P. marts.

Long aisles run the length of the building with the various food products on display in tiered shelves built to be easily accessible to even the shortest shopper. Dairy products and frozen foods are displayed in two-shelf glass faced display cases designed to eliminate the "digging down" necessary in the more conventional type frozen food refrigerating units.

Other modern shopping conveniences include Shop-A-Tote, a combination grocery and baby cart with which the shopper may wheel both groceries and the infant about while making the selection of food purchases.

Speedy handling of patrons at the check-out counter is promised by a layout which includes ten check-out aisles. Exit doors equipped with photo-electric cells for automatic opening, permitting the customer to leave without shifting an armful of grocery sacks in order to open a door.

R. R. Darl Caldwell of 515 Windsor street is to manage the new super market. His assistant manager will be H. W. Martin, of 480 Blaine avenue. Various department heads include H. W. McWherter, meats; R. L. Mapes, provisions; Jack Valvano, dairy and coffee; Mrs. Sayde Webster, bakery and candy; Rachel Teets, bookkeeper. The market will employ about 50 persons.

All department heads, officials said, undergo special training in management, consumer relations and department operation before taking over in the markets. Training which varies from several weeks to a month in length is taken at the A & P employes' school for this division located at Columbus, a central unit in a company three-state division comprising Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

ROB DUNKIRK BANK OF $1,100

Lone Gunman Holds Up Two, Makes Getaway in Blue Automobile.

The Dunkirk branch of the Kenton Savings bank was robbed of about $1,100 by a lone gunman at 2:35 p. m. yesterday.

Frank Curran, assistant cashier in charge of the bank, and Miss Marie Messenger, 23, a bookkeeper, who were alone in the bank when the bandit, dark skinned and believed to be a Mexican, entered and said, "This is a stick-up." He was not masked.

Brandishing an automatic pistol he forced the two bank employes to empty the cash drawers. He then asked them for a money bag. When they refused to give him one he stuffed the money in his pockets and backing toward the front door of the bank still pointing his gun at them said, "I'll kill both of you if you touch the alarm."

He then turned and dashed out the front door of the bank. The bank faces west onto Main street in Dunkirk and stands on the northeast corner of Main and Wayne streets, Wayne street running east and west. The bandit upon leaving the bank rounded the corner and ran east on Wayne street to Walnut street the first block east. Here he climbed into a car described by witnesses as a light blue 1941 Chrysler four-door sedan bearing an Ohio license with four numbers followed by the letter V, the first two numbers being 13. Highway patrol officials state this is a Mansfield county license.

Drove Away to South

The car roared away to the south after the bandit jumped into it. Two other dark skinned men were waiting for him in the car with the motor idling slowly, witnesses said.

Miss Marie Messenger told police she recognized the bandit as the man who came to the bank Monday to change a bill and get a roll of 50 pennies. He also took a counter check from the customers desk, she said.

The bandit overlooked $500 in mutilated money which was lying with the $1,100 in the bank's cash drawer.

Mrs. Roll Friedly, who lives in the apartment over the bank said she saw a car, fitting the description of the one the bandits used, traveling slowly past the bank several times Monday with three dark skinned men. They seemed to be watching the bank closely.

MARION, OTHER TOWNS IN AREA TO BE AFFECTED

Application Filed Today with Public Utilities Commission in Columbus.

The Ohio Associated Telephone Company filed application today with the public utilities commission of Ohio for an increase in rates throughout its entire operating area in 62 counties, it was announced by John Boyd, Marion District Commercial Manager.

Additional revenues are directly necessary to meet continued increased operating costs and to maintain the financial integrity of the Company, Mr. Boyd said. He pointed out that only by assurance of reasonable earnings would the Company be in position to attract investment funds necessary to carry out its projected program of major plant expansion and service improvements.

According to Mr. Boyd the program for the Marion operating district contemplates establishment of modern automatic dial service at Amanda, Arlington, Bloomville, Catawba, Forest, Harpster, Jeromo, LaRue, Mechanicsburg, Mt. Blanchard, Plain City, Prospect, Rawson, Republic, Ruscn, Wharton and Woodstock.

In addition the present automatic equipment in service at Marion, Green Camp, Marral and Waldo will be replaced with modern and additional equipment. Expansion and rehabilitation of the outside distribution facilities in all exchanges of this district is also projected.

Comparison of Rates

Present and proposed monthly rates for local exchange service at Marion, Green Camp, Marral and Waldo are as follows. Rates for Marion are exclusive of federal tax. Applicable to Marion, Green Camp, Marral and Waldo exchanges—

	Monthly Rates Present	Proposed
Business Service:
Individual Line	$6.50	$9.00
Two-Party Line	5.50	6.00
Rural Line	5.50	6.00
Residence Service:
Individual Line	3.00	4.00
Four-Party Line	2.00	2.75
Rural Line	2.00	2.75

Applicable to Richwood exchange:

	Monthly Rates Present	Proposed
Business Service:
Individual Line	$4.00	$6.00
Two-Party Line	3.25	5.00
Rural Line	3.00	4.00
Residence Service:
Individual Line	2.75	3.25
Four-Party Line	2.00	2.25
Rural Line	2.00	2.25

Applicable to Harpster, LaRue, Nevada and Prospect exchanges:

	Monthly Rates Present	Proposed
Business Service:
Individual Line	$3.50	$5.00
Two-Party Line	3.00	4.00
Rural Line	3.00	3.50
Residence Service:
Individual Line	2.75	3.00
Four-Party Line	2.00	2.25
Rural Line	2.00	2.25

Mr. Boyd added that increases were being requested for several auxiliary services including, business extension telephones, mileage rates, move and installation charges, etc.

In making the announcement he explained that the rate increases granted Nov. 16, 1947 for the Marion operating district exchanges, had been under review by the Public Utilities Commission many months prior to that time and had been based upon operating costs obtained when the application was filed. In view of the fact that such costs have rapidly increased in the meantime, the Company has no alternative other than to seek additional revenues to meet them, Mr. Boyd said.

Relative Identifies Woman Found Here

Marion's amnesia victim was identified at Marion county jail last night as Mrs. Helen Dean of Hammond, Ind.

Identification was made by Mr. and Mrs. John Tanner of 313 Windsor street. Mrs. Dean is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Tanner, the widow of Mrs. Tanner's late brother, Guy Elton Dean, who died at Hammond, Aug. 31, of this year.

Mrs. Dean, a former resident here, had recently been under care at a private hospital, Mrs. Tanner said. Shortly before she was trying to contact relatives at Hammond, police said, in an effort to determine if Mrs. Dean's presence had been reported there. It is believed she left there en route to visit relatives in Marion.

CITY BOARD DECIDES ON PARKING METERS

Order To Go to Concern Providing Present Devices.

Marion's city board of control voted yesterday to award the contract for the purchase of approximately 450 new parking meters to the Dual Parking Meter Co. of Canton, O. This firm made Marion's present meters. It was in the interests of uniformity of repair and maintenance and to avoid confusion in operation of the meters on the part of the motoring public the award was made to the same company. The new Model "F" Dual meter, will be purchased at a cost of $66 each, less 2½ per cent discount for payment for the meters within 60 days.

E. O. Uncapher, city safety service director, whose duty it was to inspect various types of meters, and Earl Fichtner, who maintains and collects the income of the meters, investigated and inspected meters and questioned officials and maintenance men in cities where meters of each company bidding for the Marion contract had meters located. Their recommendation, which was accepted by the board of control, was for the purchase of the Dual meter, despite the fact it was not the cheapest priced meter offered. The cost of future maintenance, wearing qualities of the various meters and their cost of maintenance as reported by city officials where they are installed entered heavily into the recommendation, Mr. Uncapher and Mr. Fichtner said.

The tabulation of bids as prepared by Tom Cathers, city engineer, was reported as follows: International Meters Inc., New York, N. Y., makers of the Alfco Twin, two meters housed in a single mounting to be located between two parking spaces and two serve both, a bid of $85 for each twin meter.

Next high was the bid of the Giant U.S. Bomber Sets New Record

By The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec 9—The biggest bomber has made its greatest flight.

The Air Force announced today its giant bride, a B-36, flew nonstop from Forth Worth to Honolulu and return, breaking its own record.

At 7 p. m. (central standard time) last night, 35 hours and more than 8,000 miles after takeoff time, the great silver ship touched down at this city's Carswell air field.

And it had carried a "useful bombload" to the halfway mark, dropping the bombs in the ocean off Honolulu.

Brig. Gen. J. B. Montgomery of the strategic air command made the announcement here—after hours of official silence.

"It is the best the B36 has ever done, but it was a routine training flight—well within the capabilities of the bombers," said the general. "It was in excess of 8,000 miles."

Round Trip Route

Crewed by 15 men, the ship flew from Fort Worth to Honolulu by way of San Diego, Calif., and returned via San Francisco.

"From San Francisco it did not fly directly to Fort Worth," said Montgomery. "I flew to the east of Fort Worth and then returned."

It was a Pearl Harbor day flight that began about 8 a. m. (central standard time) Dec 7.

Built to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles, the superbomber staggers the imagination of the public and the men who fly it. It's as big as three five-room houses and it's 67-foot tail is as high as a four-story building.

It was "groaned" into the air at its full gross weight of 278,000 pounds. No other plane ever toted such a load.

Its amazing wings stretch 230 feet—almost the length of a football field—and they flap lazily in flight. And the '36 is so long—163 feet—its crewmen use a little scooter on rails to zip from nose to tail.

Takeoff Operation

Six pusher engines shove the superbomber along at better than 350 miles per hour.

The flight was not a record for distance. In October, 1946, a Navy Lockheed Neptune patrol bomber flew from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, 11,236 miles.

The air force hopes to stretch the '36's bombing range to 12,000 miles.

ERP BUDGET FOR 2ND YEAR SCRUTINIZED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—Proposed second-year spending for the Marshall plan—estimated at around $4,500,000,000—gets its first scrutiny today from bi-partisan foreign policy leaders in congress.

Senators Connally (D-Tex), who once again will head the foreign relations committee, and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the retiring chairman, arranged a meeting with budget experts of the economic cooperation administration.

The best available spending estimate for the year beginning July 1 is about $600,000,000 less than the present $5,955,000,000 appropriation for European recovery.

But the figure is neither official nor final. Officials said it is simply "as close as anybody's guess right now."

If economic aid to China is increased and lumped with the European spending, the total will rise. Also, ECA expects to take over from the Army the administration of Korean relief, which now runs about $100,000,000 a year.

Spy Probe Still Red Herring, Says Truman

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 9—President Truman said today he still believes the congressional inquiry into Communist spy activities is a "red herring."

That was his reply when asked about it at a news conference. At the same time, he said Attorney General Clark will see that the law is enforced in connection with documents stolen from the state department.

The house un-American activities committee, probing into alleged Communist espionage, has received from Whittaker Chambers a bunch of documents allegedly stolen from the state department back in 1937 and 1938.

Chambers, now a senior editor of Time magazine, says he was a courier in those years for a Red spy ring.

Chambers has testified that Alger Hiss, then a state department official, was among those who slipped him documents.

Hiss has denied that Hiss is now president of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace.

Reporter Points to Evidence

Alluding to the papers Chambers produced, a reporter told Mr Truman there seemed to be incontrovertible evidence that highly secret documents had been taken from the state department.

The President repeated that the attorney general will take all steps necessary in the case.

A reporter wanted to know whether Mr. Truman felt that the inquiry is still a red herring.

The President called it that on several occasions during the summer and fall when he was campaigning. He asserted at that time the Republican-directed investigation was intended to divert attention from lack of congressional action on high prices.

In reply to today's question, Mr Truman said the people seem to think the inquiry still is a red herring.

"Do you'" a reporter persisted. The President replied he did.

Has "Talked It Over"

The President then was asked whether he had given any instructions to the justice department in the case. He replied again that the department knew what to do and would do it. He said he has talked over the matter with the attorney general.

He said the justice department

ONE OF 2 ACCUSED AS RED SPIES FOUND

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—Congressional investigators said today they have found one of two men accused of supplying secret government documents to a Red spy ring 10 years ago.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) of the house un-American activities committee said the man was located in the metropolitan area of Washington.

Mundt also announced the committee is preparing to hold a public hearing. He did not say who the witnesses would be.

Since Monday night, the committee has been trying to locate and serve subpoenas on two men.

These men were named by Whittaker Chambers Monday as

50 Farmers Attend Pleasant Club Meeting

More than 50 farmers attended the Pleasant Farm club meeting held recently at the Pleasant school. An educational film, "The Origin of Corn," was presented, portraying the important of corn in the growth of a nation from the time of the discovery of the continent to the present time and the conversion of corn into a large livestock feeding enterprise and packing house industry. Sport pictures and other films were also shown. A season of euchre was followed by refreshments.

Ralph Williams, president, presided assisted by Dallas Cornett. At a meeting Dec. 13 the results of the test seed corn plots on the Cusic and Rasey farms will be discussed. The meeting is open to everyone in the community.

Permanents Become New Schoolboy Fad

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec 9—Juvenile fashion fad, a permanent wave for the male forelock.

Five of the boys in high school at North Olmstead have revived a stunt of years ago by getting permanents for a front lock of hair, leaving the rest of the coiffure in its natural state.

A North Olmstead beauty operator, Hazel Hollenbach, said the high school kids weren't the only ones who wave their hair.

"Two older men, a cowboy and an elevator operator come here frequently," she said.

The "cowboy" presumably was from one of the riding academies found in areas near Cleveland's metropolitan park system.

Losses from livestock that reached markets dead, crippled or bruised in 1947 were estimated at $25 million.

W. C. BRYANT GETS OHIO LAW POSITION

Former Marion Reporter Chief Aid to Duffy.

A former Marion man, William C Bryant of Columbus, will be chief counsel to Attorney General-elect Herbert S Duffy, when he latter takes office on Jan. 10 The announcement was made yesterday by Mr. Duffy.

Mr Bryant was a reporter on The Marion Star for four years, later going on The Ohio State Journal where he "covered" the state House beat. After leaving the Journal he worked 18 months on the Springfield News

Mr Bryant, who is now first assistant prosecutor of Franklin county, obtained his law degree from Ohio State university in 1931 and was admitted to the practice of law the same year. In January of 1934 he was appointed an attorney examiner in the State Highway department and later served as secretary to the highway director. He resigned the latter post to accept appointment as assistant under Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett.

He was commissioned a first lieutenant in the U S. Army in September of 1943 and began active duty Dec. 20 of that year. He served for more than two years, 18 months of which were spent in the European Theater of Operations. He was discharged with the rank of captain and holds a similar reserve commission. He was awarded three campaign stars and also a Bronze Star medal.

Mr. Bryant is commander of Franklin Post, American Legion, and president of the Forty-Six club and the Ohio State Persian club and junior past president of the Franklin County Young Democratic club. He is a Mason and a member of Aladdin Temple of Shriners.

Mr and Mrs Bryant live at 55 Bienheim road.

Boy in Hospital Is Cheered By Truman Letter

By The Associated Press

PERTH AMBOY, N J, Dec 9—A letter from President Truman has resulted in a "280 per cent improvement for a 15-year-old boy, critically burned by 50,000 volts of electricity, according to his nurses

Frankie Wojciechowski, came in contact with a live wire on a railroad siding Oct. 9 He has been in Perth Amboy general hospital since

The boy's badly burned legs were amputated in an attempt to save his life Nurses said the boy became despondent when the operation failed to improve Frankie's condition

Frankie said he had no knowledge of how the President learned of his plight. Nurses said they did not know how the President heard of Frankie's condition.

The boy said yesterday he almost had given up hope of becoming a machine operator.

"But if President Truman can win when everyone said he didn't have a chance, I guess I can," Frankie said. "I was pulling for him the day of my operation—election day—and it was the biggest thrill of my life to learn he also was pulling for me."

The President's letter read:

"I am told that you have been very brave and cheerful through some trying times. Such a fine spirit is a splendid asset and it gives me great pleasures to send you this word of good wishes. Keep the chin up' With your many friends counting on you, I know you will not let them down"

Frankie is the son of Mrs. Helen Wojciechowski, a widow with nine other children.

RECORD ORE SHIPPING SEASON NEARS END

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9—The last iron ore cargoes of a record-breaking shipping season headed down Lake Superior today as the holds of the steamers Eugene Buffington and George Crawford of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co fleet.

When the ore is unloaded at lower lake docks in a few days, it will bring the tonnage carried in the 1948 season to approximately 82,835,000 gross tons, the largest peacetime ore movement in history.

SPY HUNTERS

sources of secret documents he said were slipped to Communist spies.

The spy hunters redoubled their efforts today to bare the whole story of how top American secrets could wind up in a pumpkin shell.

In the background was:

▶A member's charge that the administration is trying to "silence" the house un-American activities committee.

▶Testimony that "many more" Soviet spy rings either have been or still are, operating in this country.

Rep. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman, told reporters he believes the mystery of the pilfered documents will be fully solved before the committee hears out the 11 witnesses it plans to summon during the next few days.

Mundt called the committee into closed door session this morning to map a speed-up strategy for the hearings. He said additional night sessions will be held if needed to wind up the inquiry.

It was at a meeting last night that Russian-born Isaac Don Levine—a repeat witness—outlined his estimate of the extent of Russian espionage in this country.

Levine, now an American citizen, was the go-between for Whittaker Chambers when the admitted former Communist courier decided to take his story to the government in 1939—two years after breaking with the Reds.

It was from a pumpkin on Chambers' farm that microfilm copies of some of the pilfered documents were removed only last week.

From last night's session, too, came the blast by Rep. Nixon (R-Calif) at what he called administration efforts to silence this committee."

Nixon said the justice department "has made it very clear" it does not want the house group to hear any witnesses slated to testify before the special federal grand jury in New York, which reopened its inquiry into Communist spy activities as a result of the Chambers' disclosures.

Calling it "certain that the grand jury will indict Chambers for perjury," Nixon said this action will make it impossible for the jury to get at persons who worked with Chambers "because the chief witness * * * will be an indicted perjurer."

"Despite the efforts of the administration to silence this committee, we have our duty to continue our investigation," he said, adding:

"I do not intend to entrust to the department of justice and the administration the responsibility which is ours too—the responsibility to put the spotlight on what is at least a technical violation of the nation's security laws."

Levine, last night's only witness, is editor of the magazine Plain Talk which he identified as "anti-Communist and anti-Fascist." He was asked to appear to amplify previous testimony last August about his connection with the Chambers case.

MAUMEE WATERSHED TESTIMONY FINISHED

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Dec. 9—The Maumee valley conservancy district case may go to the 15-judge court for a decision next Monday.

Testimony for and against the flood-control project was completed yesterday—after 15 days of hearing in five weeks. Before the session adjourned, opposing attorneys agreed to limit their arguments to 90 minutes each when court reconvenes Monday.

"Apparently on Monday we shall be able to finish the arguments and still have some time for consideration of the case by the court," Presiding Judge Chester Pendleton of Findlay said

Robert C. Vogt of Cincinnati, a member of the U. S. Army corps of engineers for 18 years, was a rebuttal witness yesterday. He testified flood control measures would be effective in the Maumee valley.

The last opposition witness, former State Highway Director Perry Ford, said the area was too much like a giant saucer to make flood control feasible. Ford said water reservoirs would inundate more land than the valley's worst flood—in 1913.

Vogt testified that he had a part in installing flood control projects where topography was similar to the Maumee valley.

HOLDUP

each time they passed, she said.

The bandit was described by bank employes as about 23 years old, five feet 10 inches tall, 160 to 170 pounds in weight and wearing a tan overcoat and tan hat.

Road Blocks Set Up

Hardin county sheriff's department and the state highway patrol district headquarters at Findlay were advised of the robbery by bank employes less than 10 minutes after it happened. The highway patrol immediately set up a road block surrounding the entire area and reaching as far east as Richwood. Marion city police joined every other police agency in the state in answer to a statewide alert broadcast by state highway patrol radio. Marion police had route 30-S, west of the city, under close watch from the time of the state alarm until well after dark last night. No roadblock was set up here however. All city policemen were ordered to be doubly alert for any light blue car. The state patrol roadblocks were discontinued after several hours of fruitless search

Investigators continued to identify the bandit and his accomplices as "dark skinned men" in official descriptions. Some of the witnesses to the robbery seemed positive the robber was a Mexican while others were almost sure he was a Negro. A law enforcement official stated the presence of many persons of Mexican descent and nationality in the Kenton-Alger area led many people to call any dark skinned man a Mexican, regardless of nationality. He did not add whether this might be true in descriptions of the robber.

Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent Is Inspected

Annual inspection of Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 46, Daughters of Union Veterans, was held at a recent meeting in the YMCA. Inspecting officer was Mrs. Mae Tolbert of Circleville, department inspector. Six district officers were introduced. Mrs. Lilla James, Mrs. Victoria Thomas, Mrs Doris Cameron, Mrs. Ethel Cameron, Mrs. Rozella Babbs and Mrs. Florence Miller. A potluck dinner was served and guests were present from Richwood, Circleville and Cardington.

QUESTION PARENTS IN SON'S HANGING

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec 9 — Police Inspector Lawrence Abbot said today that the mother and step-father of seven-year-old John A Smith were detained overnight for questioning about the boy's hanging death.

Young Smith was found hanging in a clothes closet of his home last night The inspector said the boy's hands were tied behind his back so tightly the cord cut into the flesh.

Abbott said it was "practically impossible" for the death to be a suicide.

The boy's mother, Mrs Minnie Elix, 32, and stepfather, Roger Elix, 31, maintained steadfastly that young Smith killed himself.

He was always trying himself up around the house, Abbott quoted the mother as saying. No charges were filed against Mr. and Mrs Elix

Abbot said the parents gave this version of the incident

They were sitting in a bedroom when John walked past the door and entered a closet. When he did not come out after a few minutes, they investigated and found him hanging by a leather belt.

Mrs. Elix ran next door to telephone for a fire department inhalator squad while her husband untied the belt and applied artificial respiration.

Fire Platoon Chief Luke Marmion said the boy's body was still warm when the squad arrived. The cord about the boy's wrists had been cut, but the wrists were deeply bruised and bleeding slightly, Marmion added.

Inspector Abbott said an inspection of the cord's knots showed they were tied extremely tight. A cardboard box was found in the closet, and Abbott said the boy possibly could have stood on this to tie the belt around a coat hook.

"However, the hook appears to be too high," he continued. "It would be practically impossible for the boy to have done it himself."

Coroner Austin Richards said he would perform an autopsy later today

Mr. and Mrs. Elix were the parents of a daughter, Deborah Elix, six weeks ago Young Smith's father, Chester Smith, lives in Urbana

The parents became hysterical as police questioned them further in jail today

Probate court records showed that Mrs Elix was hailed before the court in a lunacy proceeding more than a week ago.

Dr. A. Richard Kent recommended that she be committed immediately to the Dayton state hospital.

Probate Judge Harry G. Gram recommended that she be placed in the care of a friend at Urbana, but police said the recommendation had not been adopted.

Sales Tax Collections Shidded in November

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9 — Ohio sales tax collections hit the skids the week ended November 27 for a half-million dollar decrease from the corresponding week of last year.

State Treasurer Don H. Wright said it was the largest decrease for a single week in at least a half-dozen years.

Receipts for the week totaled $2,208,908, as against $2,760,670 for the corresponding period of 1947.

Mr. Wright did not attempt to explain away the decrease, but did express an opinion that money was "tighter" this Christmas season than it was a year ago.

For a year to date, however, collections are still way ahead of last year's all-time record high To date they total $113,584,873, an increase of about 13 millions over the $100,189,167 collected in the same portion of 1947.

Call 'm "Screwball" He Can't Jail You!

By The Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md, Dec. 9—You may not be smiling when you call him a "screwball," but he cannot have you locked up.

The court of appeals ruled yesterday the "word 'screwball' does not connote opprobrium or reprehensibility."

Judge Edward S. Delaplaine, Jr., added in a scholarly analysis of slang, that the term "screwball" may signify:

"Either (1) a peculiar or eccentric person, like crackbrain, crackpot, crank, queer duck, queer fish, nut, queer potato and queer specimen, or (2) a stupid or insane person, like batty, bug-house, crazy, boob, dippy, screw-loose and soft-head."

It is not a criminal offense, however, he said.

The court of appeals decision upheld a Montgomery county jury which held that James T. Crouch of Silver Spring was wronged when a neighbor charged him with disorderly conduct after Crouch allegedly called him a "screwball."

Crouch sued the neighbor, Capt. Thomas J. Kennedy, Navy medical officer for malicious prosecution and was awarded $1,400 damages. Captain Kennedy appealed the decision.

NOTICE TO DRAW JURY

Notice is hereby given that the Jury Commission of Marion County, Ohio, will on Thursday, December 16, 1948 at 11 o'clock, in the Clerk of Courts office, draw from the jury wheel the names of thirty (30) persons to serve as Grand Jurors for the January term of Court 1948, and the names of seventy-five (75) persons to serve as Petit Jurors for the January term of Court 1948

The first 30 names drawn are to appear as Grand Jurors and the next 75 names drawn are to appear as Petit Jurors and that said persons be duly summoned to appear at the call of the Court as provided by law

Cold Weather Suggestions To Help Motorists

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 9 — Automobile club officials today offered the following suggestions to help motorists during the predicted cold wave

▶In starting the motor after dark, make sure lights, radio and heater are off before stepping on the starter.

▶If auto is equipped with hand choke, stall motor with it when putting away the vehicle for the night This will provide a reserve of raw gas in the cylinders for morning starting

▶If the auto is equipped with an automatic choke, the same effect can be accomplished by accelerating the motor and then quickly turning off the ignition

▶Never start auto on a cold morning without first depressing the clutch

▶Never start in low gear when streets are slippery. Use second or high gear and feed just enough gas to keep from stalling

TRUMAN

will follow the law in the matter

Then he added rather sharply that he has no intention of getting into a controversy with this dead committee—an allusion to the fact that the house committee, as now constituted, will go out of business when the new congress meets in January and Democrats take control of congressional machinery.

A reporter asked whether the President felt the committee should be abolished

Mr. Truman replied congress would have to take care of that matter. He suggested his questioner see the speaker of the house of representatives for his answer.

While Mr. Truman was holding his conference, the house committee was meeting on a closed session at the capitol

Ask About FBI

Another question put to the President was why the federal bureau of investigation, if it had had evidence of the stolen documents for a number of years, had not entered into the case.

Mr. Truman said it should not be put that way unless the questioner knew it to be a fact that the FBI had not entered the case.

"Do you know that to be a fact?" the newsman asked.

The President said he did not.

Mr. Truman then was asked whether the case against 12 Communist leaders recently indicted was being dropped.

Mr. Truman said the answer to that also would have to come from the attorney general.

A grand jury in New York indicted 12 Communist leaders last July on charges of advocating the overthrow of that government.

HEALTH FACILITIES IN U.S. BLASTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 9—Less than five per cent of the U S population has top-notch local health facilities, Deputy Surgeon General W Palmer Dearing said today.

He told the Ohio Tuberculosis association's semi-annual meeting that health authorities have tried since 1936 to established a "generalized health program" for every community

"The goal is nearer, but it is still far off," he said in a prepared talk. "Less than five per cent of the American people have full-staffed well-qualified well-supported health services today."

"The United States public health service," Dr Dearing added "has one prime motivating force behind its every hope and plan, and that is a full-time local health unit for every community

"This does not mean" he went on "a lessened interest in the pioneer work that must be done against the major health problems, such as tuberculosis, heart disease and mental disease Our interest is in perfecting the machinery through which all of these objectives can be reached"

Dr Dearing said Ohio was a "typical example" of the failure to appropriate sufficient money to operate health services He said 73 per cent of the Ohio health department's administrative budget comes from federal sources.

Stark County Sheriff Battle Continues

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., Dec 9—The battle for the Stark county sheriff's office will continue next Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge George N Graham in Canton.

Harry W Grossglaus, (R), filed two counteraults yesterday aimed at the retrial and rehearing petitions of Democrat Richard France over a disputed vote recount in the sheriff's race.

Five court actions, one of which was settled by a permanent injunction to halt the recount, have been filed to date

Mr Grossglaus defeated Sheriff France by a margin of more than 1,500 votes, according to the board's official tally Sheriff France asked a recount of the entire county (Mr. Grossglaus is a former resident of Marion).

MAY NAME PRESIDENT

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 9 — Wittenberg college may name its new president by Jan 20. Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss, president for 28 years, reaches the retirement age of 68 next summer. The board of trustees yesterday asked a special committee to nominate the new president by Jan. 20.

METERS

Dual Parking Meter Co. which was accepted.

The Karpark Corporation of Cincinnati, O. offered a choice of two meters, the Karpark "Superior" at $78.50 per meter and the Karpark "Husky" at $60.00 per meter.

Lowest bid submitted was that of the Magee-State Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City, Okla., which delivered at a unit price of $36.25 per meter.

The city will negotiate a contract with the Dual Meter Co. for the purchase of not less than 500 meters and not more than 800 meters The actual number of meters to be purchased will be determined at the time of meter installation and will be set on the basis of the number of meters needed to adequately serve Marion's parking needs, in the space available. Some of the new meters will be one-hour meters allowing an hour's parking for five cents deposited Others will be two-hour meters which allow two hours of parking on the insertion of two nickels at the same time. No penny meters will be installed, Mr Uncapher said.

DEVELOP AMAZING ANTI-FEVER DRUGS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec 9 — Two amazing new drugs — effective against such diseases as typhoid and Rocky Mountain spotted fever —have been added to medicine's growing arsenal of germ killers

The drugs, chloromycetin and aureomycin, have been administered to several hundred patients suffering from various diseases, including virus pneumonia undulant fever and Q fever

The sometimes 'astounding' results were described yesterday by Dr Perrin Long, professor of preventive medicine at the medical school of Johns Hopkins university at a meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers association

He disclosed that chloromycetin has brought "dramatic cures" to 10 typhoid fever patients at the University of Maryland hospital where Dr E T Woodward has done major work with the new drug

So effective is chloromycetin against typhoid fever that it may give medicine a chance to wipe out this century-old scourge altogether Dr Long disclosed It cures scrub typhus, encountered in Burma, New Guinea and the Philippines as well

Aureomycin will probably be similarly potent against typhoid fever, Dr Long told the association, but it is an "extraordinary" substance in its own right

It has cured 13 Rocky Mountain spotted fever patients in Maryland hospitals enabling patients to leave their beds in eight days.

Next Maine Governor Keeps Eye on Details

(One of a series of 22 articles on new governors chosen in the November election.)

• • •

By The Associated Press

WALDOBORO, Me., Dec. 9 — A businessman who has handled $10,000,000 a year and has a knack for details will begin running Maine's state government in January.

He's Republican Frederick G. Payne, former newsboy, grocery clerk, theater usher, dishwasher, teacher, accountant and theater chain executive. He made good in his second try for the governorship by defeating Louis B. Lausier, Biddeford's Democratic mayor.

Payne lost out for the gubernatorial nomination in 1940. But he landed in the state house as finance officer—and in 1942 joined the army air forces as a finance officer.

A native of Lewiston, Payne studied accounting at Boston and later taught the subject.

He became chief disbursing officer for the Maine-New Hampshire Theaters Corporation — a job that involved some $10,000,000 a year. Later he managed units in the chain.

One of Payne's four primary foes was the "machine" candidate. The "machine" took over his campaign after his victory, but he didn't forget his friends.

One of them was Ernest Woodman, his Calais primary organizer. Woodman wasn't consulted about an election rally at Calais so after his speech Payne visited Woodman's house. He arrived at his next stop half an hour late.

The governor-elect's eye for details was pointed up at state departmental budget hearings which took place after the election, preparatory to 1949 legislative fund proposals. He probed often into obscure listings, noting wide variations in estimates—even for new typewriters.

During budget hearings the present governor, Horace H. Hildreth, said he wanted to limit commitments from the state contingent fund so that at least half of it would be waiting for his successor.

Payne told the governor and executive council not to worry about a "50-50 basis" and to meet the current situation.

Payne has been married three times.

Identify Discarded Painting as Masterpiece

By The Associated Press

MONROVIA, Calif., Dec. 9 — A painting, discovered in a dusty corner of a garage here, was identified by art dealers today as one of three centuries ago by the noted Belgian artist Franz Snyders. They appraised it at from $4,000 to $5,000.

The find was made by James Moor as he cleaned the garage. It was bequeathed to Moor 25 years ago by George Ward, steamship company scion.

It is a picture of dead game. Snyders was noted for his works picturing animals and still lifes. He died in 1657.

MOBILE BLOOD UNIT VISIT SET

First in Marion Donors' Program Scheduled for Jan. 20.

Heading the list of activities of the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross early in the new year will be the first visit of the mobile unit of the Blood bank program on Jan. 20. Plans for this, reports of chairmen and other activities of the organization, made up the monthly business session Wednesday at Hotel Harding Charlton Myers, chairman, presided.

One hundred and forty donors will be needed to volunteer blood when the unit pays its initial visit here. Members of the chapter attended the formal opening of the Columbus regional blood center Tuesday when Admiral T. McIntire, administrator of the National Blood program, was speaker.

In the home service department the report showed 100 cases opened during the month of November with 63 continued to the present month. Seventy-six office interviews were held and five home and 11 collateral visits made.

The following volunteer service reports were made: three Gray Ladies volunteered 20 hours of service assisting at the City hospital and with the Blood program; 11 staff aides and two other volunteers gave 95 hours of service at the visitors' desk at the City hospital and chapter office; one person volunteered five hours for motor corps service; one person volunteered two hours for canteen service; one volunteered 10 hours for home service; two persons spent 17 hours cutting 55 pairs of men's pajamas for veterans' hospitals; 33 persons gave 218 hour in sewing 10 pairs of pajamas, 9 pairs of boys' pants, 100 hospital articles and one lap robe and 15 persons gave 209 hours knitting seven sweaters and 11 beanies.

The Social welfare aids class conducted by Miss Paula Ramroth has completed the course and the members are preparing to begin their duties in the chapter office. Announcement was made of the monthly meeting of the Junior Red Cross chapter on Saturday, Dec. 11.

Columbus To Honor "Miss American Hostess"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9 — Alice-Lou Lipkind of Akron, the newly-crowned "Miss American Hostess," will be honored by the Ohio Hotel association here tonight.

Miss Lipkind, a 23-year-old cashier at Akron's Mayflower hotel, will be guest at a formal dinner dance in the Deshler Wallick hotel.

On Saturday, she will fly to New York for a week of voice auditions, screen tests and sight seeing.

NAMES OMITTED

In the account of the return of the body of Pfc. John F. Ruhl from overseas for final burial here which appeared in The Star Wednesday night, the name of Pfc. Ruhl's wife, Mrs. Nolus Rockwell Chandler of Washington C. H., and that of his four-year-old son, Paul Ruhl of Washington C. H., were unintentionally omitted. Mrs. Chandler has remarried since Pfc. Ruhl's death in 1944.

He was dead right that fatal night,
The proof was clear and strong.
Yet poor old Ed—
Is just as dead
As if he'd been dead wrong.

Marion Girl Is First Wac To Join Here

Miss Virginia Tanner of this city enlisted here in November with the Woman's Army Corps, thus being the first WAC to enter from this area since enlistments were opened some time ago, according to an announcement from the local U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

Her enlistment was a feature of Marion recruiting activities during November when a total of 22 persons entered service from this area.

Miss Tanner, 18, is at the WAC Training Center, Camp Lee, Va. She is a step-daughter of Jack Helwig of 340 East Farming street, and had made her home in Marion since June, coming from Marysville. She is a graduate of Marysville High school with the class of 1948. She enlisted for a period of three years and wants to do overseas duty.

Others enlisted at the local office during November and their assignments are as follows:

Sgt. Donald R. Lane, Edison, 25th Inf. Div. on the island of Honshu, Japan; Cpl. Charles Thacker, 876 Herman street, Marion, a navy veteran, air force and assigned to air lift in Berlin, Germany; Sgt. Richard L. Moore, 822 Kenton avenue, training with the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Dix, N. J.;

Pfc. Hershel W. Hobbs, Marengo, air force veteran, Scott air force base, Rantoul, Ill.; Sgt. Robert M. Brown, of near Marion, basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., before going to European command; Sgt. Guy L. Palmer, 26 Cottage street, 24th Infantry Division, Osaki, Japan; Pvt. Richard A. Bailey, 497 Smith street, and Pvt. Richard A. Walker, 218 Senate street, air force, Lockland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas;

Cpl. Gene G. Sinclair, 861 Olney avenue, 4th Infantry Division, Fort Ord, Calif; Pvt. Albert E. Wheeler, Marengo, 601th ABU, Fort Winfield Scott, Calif.; Pvt. Lee Roy Gilliam and Pvt. Charles R. Gilliam 183 Nye street, uncle and nephew, Lockland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas; Cpl. Dallas Haines, 579 Park boulevard, former Navy man, Fort Knox, Ky.; Pvt. Robert Hartle, 790 Nelson street, Marion, ex-Navy man, European command;

Wesleyan Guild Holds Annual Yule Party

An annual Christmas party was given by the Wesleyan Service Guild of Prospect Street Methodist church Monday night at the church. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the holiday theme and a gift exchange in which secret sisters were revealed was held around a lighted Christmas tree. Refreshments were served buffet style from a table decorated with greenery and lighted red tapers in crystal holders. Favors were small candy canes.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Mrs. Kenneth Connolly chairman, Mrs. Millard Dunkl and Miss Frances Haas. The program was in charge of Miss Ruth Schott and Mrs. Loren Starner.

Plans were completed for a bake sale to be held Saturday, Dec. 11, at the White Front Market. It was decided to have a representative in the future at the church WSCS meetings, and to have associate members in the guild.

Plans were made for the guild to entertain members of the WSCS in February. Named on a committee in charge of refreshments and decorations were Miss Schott, Mrs. John C. Werbel and Miss Viola McLaughlin, and named chairman of the program committee was Mrs. Starner. Names were drawn for secret sisters for the new year.

Hostesses for the January meeting will be Miss Schott, Miss Josephine Ruth and Mrs. John Reidel.

CHRISTMAS TREE SALAD . . . Company fare supper

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Many good cooks, I've noticed, seem to have an awful time trying to decide what's to go on the menu along with the main course and dessert for a big holiday dinner. They find it easy enough to choose the meat—whether it's turkey, chicken, duck or ham—and the dessert, usually pie, pudding, or ice cream. But when it comes to the first course, the vegetables and the salad, they're in a quandary. Here are some suggestions.

This year, in our family, we've been combining the main course before a big dinner with the salad. That gives us a lot of latitude. We borrow the idea of serving Matjes herring from a Scandinavian Smorgasbord—but lots of other kinds of fish will do tuna, sardines, anchovies. Stuffed eggs with a wonderful homemade mayonnaise and maybe liver pate we take from the French, tissue-thin slices of ham or spicy salami from the Italians. And of course lots of greens go along—romaine and watercress are especially appropriate, if you can get them. Olives, sticks of fennel and carrot, radishes, tomato wedges, strips of green pepper are all good to choose.

Passing the Oil and Vinegar

I recently acquired one of the convenient and beautiful glass bottles, marked to hold just the right proportion of oil and vinegar, so now we fill it and pass it with this combination first-course salad. If you keep your oil and vinegar in separate table bottles just pass those, of course.

Another way with a first-course-and-salad is to couple fruit and vegetables and serve with a good French dressing. If you can get persimmons you'll find they are delicious with crisp celery and lettuce. If you've always teamed avocado with orange or grapefruit try it sometimes with diced red apple—leaving the apple skins on. In each of these suggestions, you'll notice, bland soft texture is used with something crisp and crunchy. And all benefit!

When it comes to vegetables we departed from tradition this year and served braised celery in place of the usual creamed onions. And was it good! It was my sister Rowena's inspiration and she cut each celery head in about six lengthwise pieces, carefully cutting through and preserving a piece of the heart along with each cluster of stalks. Then she simmered the celery in rich homemade beef broth, and finally doused it in a dressing of olive oil, herb vinegar, salt and finely crushed garlic. Even the custom-bound male members of our family loved it!

When it comes to a menu for the inevitable supper of cold leftover ham or turkey we like nothing better than plain fluffy mashed potatoes, green peas maybe, and a molded salad. Plenty good enough for company, this menu, especially if you make the salad pictured. Here's the recipe.

Jellied Christmas Tree Salad

Ingredients: 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 cup cold water, 1½ cups hot water, 1 can jellied cranberry sauce, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup finely chopped cabbage, ½ cup diced celery.

Method: Soften gelatin in the 1 cup cold water. Add hot water, stir until gelatin is dissolved. Crush cranberry sauce, lemon juice and salt; beat with a rotary egg beater until smooth. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Turn half of mixture into 9x9-inch or 8x8-inch pan. Chill until almost firm. To remainder, fold in cabbage and celery, cover first layer of clear gelatin. To serve, unmould on platter. Cut paper pattern of Christmas tree, place on gelatin; cut around pattern with knife. Remove gelatin that has been cut away from tree design. Then cut this gelatin into pieces and pile into lettuce cups to serve as salads around tree. Soften one-half of a three-ounce package of cream cheese with one teaspoon milk put through pastry tube in five rows of scallops on tree to represent garlands. Serve with mayonnaise dressing. Makes 10 servings.

Constipated For 30 Years—But No More

"I suffered constipation over 30 years but got no help till I began to eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN at every breakfast. What a difference! I'm a 'regular' now."—A. C. Burtha, St. Cloud, Minn.

If your diet lacks bulk for normal elimination, this delicious cereal will supply it. Eat an ounce every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

World Editorial Poll by UP Lists Truman Election as Top '48 News

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Dec 9—President Truman's election was the biggest news story of 1948 in the opinion of editors around the world.

It appeared as one of the year's "ten biggest" on lists from every section of the world in the United Press annual survey of newsworthy events. It led many foreign lists. The struggle at Berlin and other developments in the European cold war rated high on the lists also.

United Press news executives in New York chose the year's 10 biggest stories from the standpoint of Americans. Their unanimous choice for first place was Mr Truman's victory over Gov. Thomas E Dewey. The list follows:

1. Election of President Truman.
2. The Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
3. The high cost of living.
4. Mrs. Kasenkina's escape from the Russian consulate.
5. Gandhi's assassination.
6. Death of Babe Ruth.
7. The Chinese civil war.
8. The founding of Israel and Bernadotte's assassination.
10. Princess Elizabeth's baby.

Leading Russian Headlines

The United Press asked editors of Tass, the Russian news agency, and of the Moscow newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, to choose the 10 biggest stories. They replied they were too busy. However, judging from the display in the Soviet press, the Russians considered the following the 10 biggest stories:

1. The Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
2. Soviet-American relations in general.
3. Organization of the union of the Western Powers.
4. The rift between Tito and the cominform.
5. The new regime in Czechoslovakia.
6. Italian elections.
7. The series of treaties of friendship and commerce between the Soviet Union and eastern European nations.
8. The United Nations assembly at Paris.
9. Election of President Truman.
10. The Kasenkina case.

Western Europe Selections

Newspaper editors in Western Europe chose the following:

1. The Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
2. Election of President Truman.
3. The Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.
4. Organization of the union of Western Powers.
5. The rift between Tito and the cominform.
6. Assassination of Gandhi.
7. Assassination of Bernadotte.
8. The struggle for Palestine and the founding of Israel.
9. The Italian elections.
10. The Chinese civil war.

List in Australia

Australian editors made this choice:

1. and 2. (tied) President Truman's election and the illness of King George, which caused cancellation of the royal tour of Australia.
3. 4. 5. 6. (tied) Princess Elizabeth's baby; Bernadotte assassination; death of Gandhi and India's independence; Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
7. 8. 9. 10. (tied) The Chinese civil war; the Kasenkina case; Gen. Smuts' defeat in South African election; the struggle for Palestine.

In South America

The list from South American editors:

1. Election of President Truman.
2. The Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
3. The Bogota uprising during the inter-American conference.
4. Assassination of Gandhi.
5. Italian elections.
6. The founding of Israel.
7. South American revolutions.
8. The Kasenkina case.
9. The Marshall plan.
10. The possibility of the United States and Canada joining the western European nations in a defense pact.

Leaders in Far East

The list from Japan, China and the Philippines:

1. President Truman's election.
2. The Chinese civil war.
3. The Tokyo war crimes trials.
4. Assassination of Gandhi.
5. The founding of Israel.
6. The Berlin airlift and the cold war in Europe.
7. The rift between Tito and the cominform.
8. Princess Elizabeth's baby.
9. Formation of the union of western European nations.
10. Mme. Chiang's trip to Washington.

Christmas Meeting Is Held by Circle

The Christmas meeting of the Whatsoever circle of King's Daughters was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. E. O. Kennedy of Vernon Heights boulevard with Mrs. F. C. Steffen as assistant hostess. Mrs. James Folsom opened the meeting with a reading, "The Spirit of Christmas," followed by prayer. Mrs. J. B. Holloway was welcomed as a new member. Plans were made for a bazaar and bake sale at Easter time. It was voted to send a basket of fruit to Maplecrest, the King's Daughters home for girls at Bucyrus.

Miss Mabel Wheatley was in charge of the program and gave a talk on Madonnas painted by different artists. She illustrated her talk with slides. Mrs. Eleanor Smith, a guest soloist, sang a group of numbers, "Christmas Eve," "Christmas Song" and "A Miracle Came to Me." She was accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Davis. Mrs. Spangler of Milford, Conn., was a guest. A gift exchange was held during a social hour.

Asks Wider Distance Between Rail Tracks

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9—The state utilities commission asked the railroads yesterday to keep up with progress by widening the distance between tracks in railroad yards.

The commission recommended that the clearance between tracks (from center to center) be increased to 13 feet. It now is 12 feet, a spokesman said.

The commission explained that the width of cars has been increased since tracks were laid in many of the yards; that some trains now pass so close to each other it is a safety hazard.

Despite common misconceptions caused by its name, only about one-eighth of Iceland is covered by ice.

Why Folks Get Tired

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A MAN comes home from his taxi and finds waiting for him there a wife as weary as if she had spent the whole day wrestling an alligator.

When he asks, "How come, baby" he is told wanly:

"Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done."

This doesn't clarify the mystery at all. For the average husband is convinced that if there is one person who has an easier life than his boss—it's his wife. He can't understand how she can get so worn out when he has been breaking his own back earning enough money to buy gadgets to make her housework simple.

And it does no good at all for him to wonder out loud:

"I remember mom used to get tired, too, sometimes. But she had to clean by herself an eight-room house full of kids. And of course she did all the laundry and ironing and even raised chickens in the back yard after eggs got up to 40 cents a dozen. But how anybody could get tired straightening up this dinky little apartment is—"

"I am not your mother," says the wife, "and besides—"

• • •

AND THE SUBJECT of her fatigue is lost in an argument between the party of the first part and the party of the second part over family history.

The only way for a husband to get at the real truth of the matter is to stay home and find out what makes a wife so tired. What are her problems? How does she meet them?

Last week I was bedfast in my own four-room castle with a tumult in my toes that the doctor called a rheumatoid infection. I had a good chance to observe the work routine of my wife, Frances. Illness often sharpens the senses, and I think I have finally found out why wives get weary.

If your household is anything like mine, this is the way the day goes.

The good wife cooks and eats breakfast and carries out the dishes to the sink. Then she goes back to bed and lies down for a few minutes.

• • •

UP SHE JUMPS and goes in and feverishly does the dishes. She flops on the couch and rests. She jumps up and does the beds. She flops on the love seat and makes out a grocery list. She jumps up to answer the phone. She flops down on the couch. She bounces up to go to the door. No, she tells the man, she doesn't want to buy a four-volume history of Abyssinia.

She flops on the love seat. She leaps up and buzzes the cleaner around the rug. She sags down on the couch. She's up and pawing at the furniture with a rag. She's back on the love seat.

She's up as the phone rings again. She sighs back to the couch to read the shopping ads.

She's up to let in the grocery boy. She swoons again briefly on the love seat.

And so the day wears. She's up she's down she's down she's up.

• • •

AFTER WATCHING this for six days, I felt I was in a position to offer Frances my findings.

"A motor car burns more gasoline going through a traffic-crowded street, where it has to stop and start, than if it goes on a quiet road," I said.

"Housewives could climb the Washington monument with the strength they waste flopping down and getting up all day long. Either they should stay up longer and get more work done, or else lie down longer and get more rest."

When I asked Frances what she thought of this theory, she said:

"I don't care for your use of the word flop. And as for your theory, all I think it shows is that you are well enough to go back to work."

I guess my theory was a flo—I mean a failure. But it explains why husbands come home tired. They sit at their desks, then get up and go to the water cooler to keep from tackling a problem. They come back, flop in their chair, rustle some papers—and back to the water cooler. They're up . . . they're down . . . they're down . . . they're up.

No wonder a man comes home weary. He's spent the whole day at the office flopping, too — one way or another.

MANY U.S. DOLLARS POURING INTO YUGO

By The Associated Press

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, Dec. 9—Millions of American dollars are pouring into Yugoslavia to help finance Premier Marshal Tito's program of "rehabilitation and socialist construction."

A report in the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Borba revealed that a huge majority of contributions of money and supplies reaching Yugoslavia still comes from residents and organizations in the United States.

American contributions in the last three years were listed at $18,500,000. In addition, more than $1,000,000 worth of medical supplies, mobile tuberculosis clinics, trucks and street sprinklers have come from America through the Yugoslav Red Cross.

The contributions from the United States do not include the huge collections sent to the Yugoslav government in exile in London in 1945.

They also do not include the unestimated millions of dollars which stream in constantly from individuals—relatives and friends—in the form of cash, clothing, canned food and innumerable other consumer goods to private citizens.

Postal officials in Belgrade estimate that more than 90 per cent of the packages received in Yugoslav postoffices throughout the country from abroad come from the United States.

Moloney, Merchant, Smith on AP All-Ohio Honor Team

Three high school football stars from Marion—Ed Moloney and Bill Merchant of Marion St. Mary and Clarence Smith of Harding—today received honorable mention on The Associated Press All-Ohio football team.

Ten players from nearby schools also made the coveted Associated Press team—recognized by the Ohio High School Coaches' association as official since 1938—in honorable mention capacities, giving the Marion area an excellent representation on the honor squad.

They were: the Kibler twins, William and Richard, Bucyrus halfbacks; Walt Huggins, Bucyrus center; John Rismer, Carey tackle; John Berardinelli, Carey quarterback; Roy Plott, Carey halfback; Vic Christini, Crestline tackle; Jack Decker, Kenton fullback; Robert Beidler, Upper Sandusky guard; and John Mason, Upper Sandusky halfback.

Clarence Smith, fleet Marion Harding full back, was a repeater on the honorable mention squad. He made it last year as a junior.

Ed Moloney, as an end, and Bill Merchant, triple threat halfback, were a ground-gaining duo feared throughout the Mid-State league. The Merchant to Moloney pass combination clicked for five Irish touchdowns this season and two extra points. Both boys are juniors.

Smith also made honorable mention on the United Press team and Moloney made the INS honor guard.

Scoring ability and defensive power are plentiful on the 1948 All-Ohio high school football team.

The honorary selections, made with the cooperation of coaches, sports writers and game officials, are split into offensive and defensive units for the first time, with 22 players making the first team.

Best of 20,000

The winners of the coveted berths were weeded from among the state's 20,000 players and 575 teams through ballots sent to all the coaches, the state's Associated Press member sports editors, and about 100 officials.

Although the honorary teams are dotted with talent from the schools which finished among the top 10 during the campaign, several of the boys came from squads which did not enjoy outstanding success.

Sheer personal ability was the deciding factor in winning the places, and some of the top-notchers wheeled in from such smaller towns as Bellevue, Conneaut, Miamisburg and Struthers.

John Colcert, Canton McKinley's game-breaking back who was forced to sit out the losing game with Massillon because of a broken collar bone, was the fanciest choice of the voters and he was awarded the team captaincy. The 180-pound speed king contributed 21 touchdowns to the McKinley cause in nine games, against the roughest kind of opposition.

With Colcert at halfback is Dayton Chaminade's Bob Koepnick, another 180-pounder who rolled for 18 touchdowns. Chet Groo, Lakewood's 185-pound fullback, came in with 14 touchdowns, three field goals and 23 extra points for a 116 total to grab the offensive berth. At quarterback is Curt Jones, Middletown's outstanding passer, punter and ball-handling magician. He scored only four touchdowns, but coach Glenn (Tiger) Ellison said "He's the secret of our success."

Operating behind their own lines those four scored 376 points, and they should "go wild" behind an all-star forward wall. They'd get plenty of pass-catching and blocking aid from such ends as Dick Thomas of Martins Perry and Milt Bruckner of Bellevue, both glue-fingered stalwarts.

The center of the line has everything, with Chuck Weeks of Columbus West and Nick O'Brovac of Canton McKinley at the tackles; Les Allen of Toledo Scott and Don Thomas of Springfield at guard, and Bob Kane of Newark at center. That wall averages about 185 and has speed to burn.

Over on the defensive side are some offensive stars in their own right, but who shone when it came to batting down opposing runners. Despite the fact they contributed 216 points on offense backs Bernie Skyarka of Struthers (82), Jim Bailey of Hamilton (108), Al Brown of Massillon (68) and John Hlay of Niles (58) didn't let many runners get by them or many passes be completed in their territory.

Both From Stark Co.

Both defensive ends come from Stark county—Jack Houston of Massillon and Dick Davidson of Alliance. The tackles are Jim Hietikko, 17-year-old six-foot three-inch 212-pounder from Conneaut (his team won only one game) and Bob Heil of Miamisburg, the state's No. 1 defensive team. At guard are rugged Bill Shalosky of Louisville and Jim Alder of Lima Central, with Tom Mahin, Youngstown Woodrow Wilson's one-man gang, handling the center job.

Among the honorable mention players who will be familiar to Marion fans are Kenneth Carver, Mansfield end; Gene Geib, Fremont center; Bob File, Findlay quarterback; Paul Thiesen, Columbus West quarterback; Paul Ferguson, Mansfield quarterback; Carlos Jackson, Fostoria halfback, and J. C. Jenkins, Mansfield fullback.

25 Prexies Get Football Letters

BY GEORGE SCOTT

Two sophomores, 14 juniors, and nine seniors received letters at the annual banquet honoring the Harding football squad last night at the First Evangelical and Reformed church. Ivan Davis, assistant commissioner of the Ohio Athletic association, was the guest speaker at the dinner attended by 150 football players, their fathers, Harding teachers and coaches and guests.

Managers Win "H's"

Senior managers who were awarded numerals were Dick Roseberry, Pete Regulus, and Jim Williams, head manager. Dewey Bolyer, Harding athletic director, presented letters to eight cheerleaders: Billie Ann Baldauf, Gloria Cummins, Jean Knoisley, Jeanne Small, Jo Ann Eddy, Anna Mae Jones, Rae Fetter and Clara Jane Frederick. Said Mr. Bolyer: "All these girls have done a wonderful job. We're proud of them."

Ivan Davis, guest speaker, said the text of his talk was "What have I learned from football?" He explained, "first of all we must learn the fundamentals. Someone must do the blockings. It's hard work and there is little glory in it for the fans are watching the ball carrier. In life, blocking is doing what you have to do what you ought to do it whether you like to do it or not. Boys, your mothers and fathers have done a lot of blocking for you."

"To win you know you must carry the ball. You must be aggressive. We all know people who are on the defensive all the time. They're so irritating that they'd give an aspirin tablet a headache. Ten years from now few people will remember that you played on the 1948 Harding football team. What is important is what you have learned from football to help you conduct your daily life."

Tells Story of Ike

He then told the story of Ike Eisenhower who was never a great football player. "But he won the game of life. May the good God give you the strength to do likewise," he concluded.

Toastmaster E. P. Huffman introduced coaches Howard Thomas and George Kent. Both thanked the members of the squad for working hard and doing their best. Lester Dickey, superintendent of Marion schools, thanked the Harding band and its director, Homer Huffman, the coaches, the boys on the squad, and the cheerleaders.

Jim Williams, representing the team and managers, presented gifts to the coaches and thanked Levi Welch for the excellent care he gave the stadium grounds. After the dinner Homer Huffman directed the group in singing and Harry Dowler was the accompanist. Toastmaster E. P. Huffman closed the banquet by thanking groups and individuals responsible for a successful gridiron season. The invocation was given by J. H. Smith.

CHARGED WITH MURDER. Art Shires, former major league first baseman, poses in his home at Dallas, Texas, after he was charged with murder earlier in the day in the death of W. H. Erwin, former professional ball player. Officers quoted Shires as saying he had a fight with Erwin Oct. 2. Shires, "The Great" in his playing days, was freed on $5,000 bond today.

BIG NINE MEETING OPENS TOMORROW

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 — The Big Nine opens its regular winter meeting tomorrow with three items on the agenda which could make Western conference history.

Major topics which faced the faculty representatives, athletic directors and football coaches were:

1. Decision by the faculty representatives whether to admit Michigan State as the tenth member of the league.

2. Approval, amendment or rejection by the faculty representatives of a new plan to tighten restrictions on scholarships held by athletes.

3. Preparation by athletic directors and football coaches of the grid schedules for 1950, 1951 and 1952.

There were elements in each topic which could produce heated discussions before final settlement.

It appeared that the major point affecting Michigan State's bid was whether the faculty representatives have become convinced that the league could be stronger as a 10 team loop again. Although most representatives decline to discuss their position, it was understood that Minnesota was the strongest supporter of the Spartan case.

EXPECT "NAME" BASEBALL TRADES

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 9 —News-starved baseball fans are hereby warned to get ready for some real action. The way things have been shaping up, at least a couple of "name" trades are almost certain to be announced within a day or two.

Now that the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates have started the horsehide rolling with the Gustine-McCullough swap, the general feeling is the minor league convention will really start humming with big league deals.

The Chicago White Sox, busiest trades of the off-season thus far, make no bones about their hope of luring third baseman Bob Dillinger from the St. Louis Browns, first baseman Eddie Robinson from Cleveland, and pitcher Allie Reynolds from the New York Yankees.

Change Mind

The New York Giants want pitcher Johnny Vander Meer from Cincinnati. They have offered second baseman Billy Rigney. The deal is "hot" right now. Ironically, the Reds tried awfully hard to swap Vandy to the Giants for Rigney last year, but were turned down.

The national league champion Boston Braves have made overtures to Pittsburgh for outfielders Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake, but have not gotten very far. Brooklyn is still hot after first baseman Eddie Waitkus of the Cubs, but so are the Giants. The St. Louis Cardinals want a guarantee that Walker Cooper's knee operation is a success before giving up pitchers Red Munger or Murry Dickson to the Giants for the big catcher.

Detroit is dangling pitcher Dizzy Trout before Bill Veeck's eyes in an effort to land second baseman Johnny Berardino. The Yankees desire to make changes. So do the Philadelphia Phillies, Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators.

The Giants were all set to make an announcement yesterday, but changed their minds at the last minute. It is no secret they were after catcher Clyde McCullough and southpaw pitcher Cliff Chambers of the Cubs. However, when the two were traded to the Pirates for third baseman Frank Gustine and rookie righthander Calvin McLish, it left the Giants in the cold.

The Cubs recently exchanged outfielders with the Phils, giving up Bill Nicholson for Harry Walker.

The White Sox have parted with veteran pitchers Joe Haynes and Frank Papish (to the Indians), outfielder Taft Wright (Athletics), and Catcher Aaron Robinson (Tigers). They have acquired catcher Joe Tipton and pitchers Bob Kuzava and Ernie Groth (Indians) and pitcher Billy Pierce (Tigers).

Southern Cal Back Grabbed by 'Skins

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9—Halfback Jack Kirby, clutch-scoring ace of the University of Southern California, will play football with the Washington Redskins of the National league next year.

Kirby, ignored in the player draft of graduating college performers, was grabbed by owner George P. Marshall of the 'Skins as a free agent.

ISRAEL MAY HAVE TEAM

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9—Amateur Athletic Union president James A. Rhodes believes Israel will have a team in the 1952 Olympic games at Helsinki. He expressed his opinion last night in a letter to Hitachdut Choveven Sport in Israel at Tel Aviv.

Diamond tools were first used in 1779.

Tight Scrap in Offing For Big 9 Cage Crown

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 9—It'll be dog-eat-dog in midwest basketball this year, and it's a 10 to 1 shot that the eventual Big Nine champion will drop at least one conference game before the crown is won.

In 1929-30 Piggy Lambert's Purdue team with Johnny Wooden whipped 10 league rivals and in 1942-43 Doug Mills' Illini whiz kids at their prime whaled an even dozen opponents.

This year the clubs appear more evenly matched than usual. Every team has more lettermen than can play at one time. Iowa has only one regular back, but conference Michigan has five and Purdue six. And every club has its quota of sophomore prospects who may be stars.

The Big Nine race is the big chase in the midwest, and on the surface, who'll beat Michigan? The Wolverines won 10 and dropped two in the conference last year, and every starter is back, including two all-conference men, guards Bob Harrison and Pete Elliott. But Michigan's coach, Ozzie Cowles, who produced a title in two campaigns, quit to move to Minnesota.

Possible Title Timber

Minnesota, with Cowles, could be title timber. The Gophers were highly touted last year and finished in the second division. Cowles began to rebuild and his cut to a 15-man squad slashed three lettermen. His team will be based on a gigantic all-conference center, Jim McNamara, and sophomore White Skoog.

Northwestern rates a title hope on its sophomores. Bill Sticklen, one of the Big Nine's leading scorers, looks like the only letterman sure to start. Dutch Lonborg has Ray Ragelis, Dave Allen, Jake Findley and Don Blasius, four sophomores who won Indiana and Illinois all-state spots, and they've pushed the monogram men right off the court.

Ohio State's prospects are looking up too. The Buckeyes once defeated Michigan last year and Tippy Dye has four regulars back on an all-junior combination which was coming fast at season's end. Dick Schnittker, third leading scorer in the league, and two guards, Gene Brown and Bob Burkholder, will pace the Bucks.

At Illinois, all-conference "Dike" Eddleman is back and reportedly has been practicing with a basketball since Midway through the grid season. Paired with another regular, Wally Osterkorn, and good holdover reserves, the Illini could come through.

Have-Nots of Loop

Purdue, Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa seem to be the have-nots of the league. The Boilermakers have six regulars back, but the team finished with a .500 rating last season and unless they show improvement, they could finish with the same mark this year.

Wisconsin, a perennial power, has three regulars, but the Badgers were shaky at season's end last year and it's questionable whether the newcomers can help much. But Bud Foster has one standout player in center Don Rehfeldt.

Indiana's Branch McCracken will count on Don Ritter and Lou Watson to pull up the Hoosiers from their unaccustomed finish last year, tied for last. Iowa, apparently with the poorest prospects in the league, has only guard Bob Schulz back from the starters. And nobody can replace Murray Wier, who set a league record for scoring. But Pop Harrison's teams usually develop fast, and Iowa could easily say something about who wins the crown.

Y INDUSTRIAL OPENS TONIGHT

Four teams will tangle at the YMCA tonight in the opening of Industrial league play. Commercial Steel will meet Pollak Steel at 7 p. m. and Marion Power Shovel will take on Alloy Steel at 8. The Universal Cooler basketball squad will be idle.

Officials will be Bill Barnetson, Meeker high school coach, and Joe Cox, a new member of the Mid-Ohio officials association. Tickets are 35 cents, said Vern Miller, physical director of the Y. Season tickets for ten games in either the Industrial league and Independent league may be purchased for $3.

The loop making its 1948 debut tonight is strictly industrial. Every player is an employe of the company he represents. Managers are: Commercial Steel, Bob Scott; Marion Power Shovel, George Reimlinger; Pollak Steel, Fred Gelbaugh; Universal Cooler, Charles Reed; and Alloy Steel, John McKeever.

House of David Wins In Upper Sandusky

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 9—The clowning House of David team which plays in Marion Sunday racked up another victory last night by downing an Upper squad called the Oneidas, 34-32. The Davids used only five men and observers described the game as "a three-ring circus."

Sugar Ray Injured, Bout Called Off

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — The Twentieth Century Sporting club could chalk up a mark today in its running promotional war with the brash young Tournament of Champions.

The T-of-C's big middleweight attraction — Sugar Ray Robinson against Steve Belloise—won't go on tonight at the Jersey City armory as scheduled.

Robinson turned up yesterday with a rib injury suffered in training and his clash with Belloise, which was supposed to produce a challenger for middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan, had to be postponed.

The welterweight king will be out of commission for at least a month, physicians said. Promoter Andy Niederreiter announced he still planned to stage the fight but he didn't know when.

This left the Twentieth Century holding the only weekend lure for the metropolitan fight fan's eager cash—a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night between Izzard Charles and Joe Baksi, two challengers for Joe Louis' heavyweight crown.

Robinson said he was hurt Monday when a big sparmate named Tiger Wade from San Francisco landed a solid lick on his left side.

The contestants were to come in under 160. Robinson weighed around 156.

Meanwhile, the principals in tomorrow night's heavyweight battle at the Garden finished heavy training.

Baksi, the Kulpsmont, Pa., giant now down to 212 pounds, confined himself to limbering up. Charles, 180-pound Cincinnati sniper whom Louis has labeled a top contender for his crown, boxed four rounds with a couple of sparring partners.

Charles is favored at 5 to 12.

1ST WINTER TOURNEY, MIAMI OPEN, BEGINS

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9 — The first major tournament of the winter circuit, the $10,000 Miami Open, begins today at Miami Springs Golf course, and Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret are hailed as the men to beat.

Snead, three times winner of the grueling 72-hole tournament, carries a slight edge as favorite and is ranked a three to one choice among the bet makers.

Smiling Jimmy Demaret, defending champion, equalled the tournament record with 287 last year and could repeat over the re-designed, 6,735-yard layout.

Mangrum is gunning for top PGA money earning honors and could edge out Ben Hogan for the 1948 money man by either winning the tournament or taking second place.

The pros regard Snead, from White Sulphur Springs, Va., as the odds on favorite.

For the first time in several years, Ben Hogan is missing from the big-name pro list.

The field includes 156 golfers.

Horace Gillom, giant end of the Cleveland Browns of the All-America pro football conference, spent the off-season working in a Massillon, O., steel mill.

STEVE O'NEILL SIGNS AS INDIAN COACH

By International News Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 9—Steve O'Neill, deposed manager of the Detroit Tigers, was signed today by the Cleveland Indians as a coach.

The announcement that the former Tiger pilot had joined what is perhaps the greatest "brain trust" in baseball came as San Diego of the Pacific Coast league dickered for O'Neill's services at the minor league meetings in Minneapolis.

The new Indian hireling guided the Tigers to the American league pennant in 1945 and to the world championship over the Chicago Cubs.

Detroit finished in fifth place last season.

Working on the coach end with O'Neill will be among others, former Tiger slugger and Indian vice president Hank Greenberg, and Bill McKechnie, ex of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds.

HARDING CAGERS IN ACTION TONIGHT

Entertain Columbus South in Edison Gym.

The Harding cagers will go for their second season win tonight when they meet a tall, fast breaking Columbus South squad at Edison gym. On the invaders team are three boys who stand six feet, two and three inches.

In a minor shakeup of the Pirates lineup coach Kenny Sumerlot has announced some probable changes in the five that will start tonight. Bill Buckingham and John Zimmerman, who fanned the tieing and winning baskets against Galion, will see a lot of action. The rest of the starters will be Dick Thomas, Jack Daum, Merle Daum or Dick Clark.

The Columbus South men have taken both Upper Arlington and Springfield. They use strictly a zone defense with their three tall men back for rebounds and their two smaller, faster men out front. Their game is fast breaking and they do a terrific job of it, said Somerlot. One of the squad that may give the Pirates trouble is a 165-pounder Negro forward. Somerlot said he is one of the team's best shots.

OHIO-INDIANA LEAGUE DIRECTORS IN MEETING

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 9 Ohio-Indiana baseball league directors discussed their attitude on amendments to regulations and the major-minor league agreement during a session here last night. President Frank Colley said that was the only matter taken up. The meeting was part of the minor league confab.

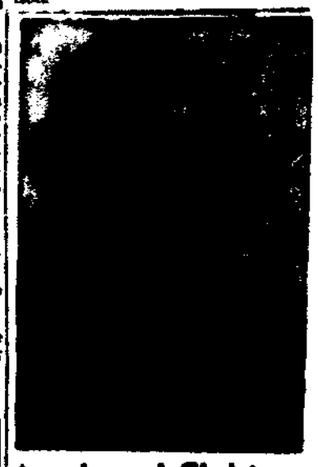
The Marion Baseball Club Co is not represented at the minor league meetings. President W Dexter Haren said none of its officers would attend this year.

Cincinnati Coach Phil Page played three years of baseball for Penn State college.

NO BULL FIGHT

By The Associated Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 9—There'll be no bullfight in the Gator Bowl Saturday. After six local organizations protested on the grounds that the bull might get hurt, Mayor C. Frank Whitehead announced the city would not permit the scheduled exhibition.



Angelo and Christy Meet Wayne and Schultz Tonight

In what looks like Marion's roughest tag team match will take place tonight at the armory. Promotor Fishbaugh has signed Martino Angelo, the Buffalo Bully, and Killer Joe Christy as a team to try and take the team of Dutch Schultz and Dale Wayne; last Thursday Schultz and Wayne proved too rough in winning over Nemeff and Wolfe but tonight they will be facing Toledo's champion team in Angelo and Christy. Killer Joe will be making his first Marion appearance but is well known all over the country as the best 200 pounder in the game. Besides the two hour feature bout there will be two thirty minute matches. Angelo will wrestle Wayne in the one while Killer Joe wrestles Schultz in the other. Both Schultz and Killer Joe stand well over six feet.

Don Wilson and Jack Wilson will open the show at 8:30 with a ten minute prelim. Call 2745 after six-thirty for your best seats. Prices 50-75-1.00.—Adv.

Central Juniors Beat Galion for 3rd Win

Central Junior High school's basketball team beat Galion Wednesday afternoon, 29-23, for the squad's third victory of the season against no losses. The Galionites floored a light, fast team, but just couldn't seem to click on the Armory court against a taller Central team.

Jimmy Russell started the ball rolling for the Wildcats as he scored all of his 12 points in the first half. Russell topped the Central scoring column while Corry paced Galion with seven.

E. Roland Harriman To Head Red Cross Drive

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 — National headquarters of the Red Cross announced yesterday that E. Roland Harriman, New York banker, will be chairman of its 60 million dollar fund drive in 1949.

Harriman is a brother of Averell Harriman, former commerce secretary and present rowing ECA ambassador in Europe. The fund drive will get under way March 1.

Rites in Tennessee For Former Bucyrian

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 9—Military funeral services were held Sunday in Portland, Tenn., for S Sgt. William Lovell, 24, former Bucyrian, who was killed in action in September, 1944, while serving with the U. S. Third Army in Europe.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lovell, residing south of here, attended the services. Burial was made in the family lot in the Portland cemetery.

Before entering the service, Sgt. Lovell was assistant manager of the J. J. Newberry Co. store here.

WILBUR HALL AND RENE

WILBUR HALL TO BE ON PALACE STAGE

Musician and Dancer Coming with Show Friday.

A talented musician and dancer, Wilbur Hall, with his partner, Rene, will be featured in the edition of "The Best Is Yet To Come" to be presented on the stage of the Palace theater Friday night. Two shows will be given, at 7 and 9:30 p. m.

A dead-pan comic, Hall was selected by "Showstopper" magazine in this year's poll as one of "the ten best funny men." A native of Oregon, Hall first captured the national spotlight when cast by Ken Murray in his original "Blackouts" with which he performed for more than three years. He plays violin, trombone and trumpet, comedy style, and has many dead-pan routines with Rene and the lovebird, "Joey."

Headlining the two-hour variety show is Charlie Fisk and his orchestra, an organization which has recently gained popularity throughout the nation. Other entertainers in the revue include Pat Moran, a comedian, the Four Dandies, a world famous barber shop quartet, Larry and Pamela, dancers, Syd Chatton, a mimic, and Norman Brown, a dancing drummer.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—The price trend was cloudy at the opening of the stock market today.

Changes were mostly in small fractions, with gains and losses well divided. A number of blocks of 1,000 or more shares changed hands in moderately active business.

Radio Corp. started ½ higher on a 2,000-share trade. Others ahead included General Electric N. Y. Central, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman Kodak, and Paramount Pictures.

Trimmed a bit were American Can, Anaconda Copper, Du Pont, Standard Oil (NJ), Western Union, and United Air Lines.

PRESIDENT ELECTED? NOT UNTIL MONDAY

By The United Press

WASHINGTON Dec 9—This coming Monday 531 electors meet at the various state capitals to pick the next President of the United States

The electors like everyone else knows that Harry S Truman was the choice of voters at the polls on Nov 2 Nevertheless a complicated ritual provided by the Constitution and acts of congress will be closely observed to make it official

It will all wind up Jan 20 when Mr Truman takes the oath of office here on the capitol's east portico

There is a chance that this will be the last time the electoral process will work as it now exists There are many in congress who believe it's "archaic" and who favor a constitutional amendment to make many changes

At present the candidate winning the largest popular vote in a state gets all of that state's electoral votes Some congressmen of both parties are talking of an amendment whereby the electoral votes would be divided among candidates in proportion to their popular vote

ENGINEER REPORTS ROAD WORK FINISHED

Keener Pike Construction Now Completed.

Walter W Johnson county engineer, announced today that the state contract calling for reconstruction of 2 8 miles of the Keener pike, (county road No 100), has been completed

The contract was awarded July 28, to the U S Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky.

Work consisted of grading and draining, laying a five-inch course of stone macadam, 16 feet wide, over the entire length, and a one-inch top course of tar and stone chips, mixed in place

The contractor will be paid approximately $53,000, subject to approval of the public roads administration, since the federal government participated on a matching basis In addition to furnishing half the contract cost, the county bought five feet of ground on each side of the existing road to make a 50 foot right-of-way. Payments to interested land owners to total $2,767.97. The county had charge of all engineering and inspection, and was pledged to seed berms and ditches subject to proper weather conditions. James T. Johnston was county inspector on the project.

Mr. Johnson reported that the road is now open to traffic.

2 ROBBERS THREATEN OSU PROFESSOR, WIFE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 9—An Ohio State university professor and his wife threatened with death by two robbers, are under police guard today in suburban Bexley

Police Chief R E. McNamee said Dr and Mrs George M Curtis were robbed of $200 Monday night in their home. He said the couple told him the robbers threatened to kill everyone in the house if the police heard of it

"This means 40 years if we get caught," the men told them

Mrs Curtis said the men rang the doorbell When she answered they said "this is a stickup" and pushed open the door.

"We are desperate and need money," one of the robbers said. They refused to take jewelry.

McNamee said charges of armed robbery had been filed against Raymond L Gramo, 29, and Jack D. Fleming, 24, both of Columbus. The men, he said had been seen driving away from the Curtis home in a yellow bantom car.

Yesterday, McNamee added, Grambo and Fleming were accused of kidnaping two teen-age girls. McNamee said charges of kidnaping were filed by the mother of one of the girls. The girls told police they were forced to ride with the men to Dayton and Cincinnati and were later returned home.

Dr. Curtis is professor and chairman of the department of research surgery in the OSU college of medicine.

NATIONALISTS ADMIT HEAVY TROOP LOSSES

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 9—Government military sources admitted today Chinese Communists have inflicted heavy casualties on three encircled army groups on Nanking appproaches.

They said the 16th army group was believed to have been virtually wiped out. The 16th and the two other groups garrisoned Suchow until last week, when they withdrew southward in an effort to relieve the trapped 12th army group in the Suhsien sector.

Proposes Record High Budget for France

By The United Press

PARIS, Dec. 9—French Henri Queuille planned to hand to the national assembly today a record-breaking 1949 budget calling for the expenditure of some $5,000,000,000.

His cabinet approved it last night shortly after David Bruce, chief of the economic cooperation administration mission to France, warned that France must make "fresh and still more important efforts" to carry her share of the European recovery load.

Bruce said some Frenchmen thought France's contribution to European recovery "not altogether satisfactory" and noted congress would meet soon to study the question of continued American support for French recovery.

Britain Bolstering Hong Kong Garrison

By The Associated Press

SINGAPORE, Dec 9 — The British army announced today it is sending reinforcements to Hong Kong "in view of the deteriorating situation in China"

A communique announcing the departure by the year's end, said the second battalion of the sixth Ghurka rifles was going to the British crown colony. Informed military sources said the outfit's departure had been speeded up because of the Communist advance south through China.

The Ghurkas were diverted to Singapore when Red rebels attacked the British at Malaya last summer.

150 HEAR ADDRESS ON CONSERVATION

"Friends of Land" Secretary Speaks at Pleasant School.

Approximately 150 persons attended the annual meeting of the Marion Soil Conservation District held Wednesday night at the Pleasant Township school for which Edgar Ouse Fink of Columbus agricultural conservationist author and executive secretary of the Friends of the Land was guest speaker His subject was Food—the Money of a Hungry World"

During the business meeting reports of the years activities were given Calvin Baldinger of Claridon, Clyde Hileman of Grand Prarie and Victor Kress of Pleasant were re-elected to the board of supervisors for a three-year term They have served in this capacity for the last three years.

Mr Fink, in his talk, stressed one of the major objectives of the Friends of the Land society, the awakening of the urban public to the realization that soil conservation is not a vital matter for the farmer alone He stated that the farmer produces the basic needs of man, and that production beyond the needs of his farm family is the surplus which makes life possible in the city.

Therefore, the speaker said, it is only through conserving the soil which provides the surplus that cities can continue to exist which in turn makes conservation of greater importance to those who live in the cities than it is to those who live on the farm

A film, "People Together," was shown.

CIRCLEVILLE MAY LOSE LIQUOR FEES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 9—Circleville may lose its annual liquor permit fee rebates from the state of Ohio, the state liquor department enforcement chief said today.

Donald T. Geyer attributed the possible state action to what he termed failure of the Circleville Police Chief William McGrady to aid state liquor investigators.

Geyer said two liquor department inspectors were refused police assistance in a raid on the Circleville Moose club Saturday night.

The investigators, William Galayda and Joseph Harrell of Columbus, complained to the Circleville city council Tuesday night. The council took no action.

Geyer said he would investigate the Circleville individual and if, in his opinion, Chief McCrady had been uncooperative, he would recommend to the state liquor control board "possible withholding of Circleville permit fees."

The board has that authority, he said.

Since the repeal of prohibition, Circleville has received a total of $92,000 in permit fee rebates, with $6,835 being handed back last year.

Yesterday, a story about a stranger trying to sell "protection" to four Circleville clubs for $1,800 set off a state liquor department investigation. Geyer said today liquor agents believed they knew the identity of the man.

'MAD ANTHONY' ROUTE MARKED

Parkway in Ohio Honors Famous Frontier Army Leader.

By the Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Dec. 9—First of the blue and white highway markers designating the Ohio route of Gen. Mad Anthony" Wayne and his western frontier army are being erected here.

The markers are the first bearing the Anthony Wayne parkway name to be placed along the military routes designated for memorial development by the Ohio legislature.

The first signs are being erected on routes 24 and 111 near Defiance.

For two decades, Defiance and other communities along the trail of Anthony Wayne have worked to create the parkway. The project was given official state status with the bill enacted in 1947, authorizing appointment of an Anthony Wayne Parkway board. The board was empowered to plan and supervise the development as a unified system of parks and historic shrines.

Nucleus of System

The 20 fort sites from Cincinnati to Toledo via Defiance and the many parks adjacent to the route will form the nucleus for the parkway development. State departments and local county and municipal agencies were authorized by the general assembly to cooperate with the parkway board.

Earl L. Reeb, state highway director said 100 of the new blue and white markers are being installed along the 225-mile stretch from Cincinnati to Toledo.

The parkway bears the name of one of the nation's great military leaders. He earned the popular name of "Mad Anthony" in the Revolutionary war by his outstanding leadership and bravery. Washington appointed him to succeed General St. Clair in 1799, as commander of the western army with the rank of major general.

The government continued its efforts to induce the Indians to allow settlements by whites beyond the Ohio but upon failure of the mission in 1793, Wayne advanced to Greenville a post on a branch of the Great Miami river, in July of 1794. Joined by Kentucky militiamen, he advanced north to the confluence of the Maumee and Auglaize rivers.

Scores Military Victory

Arriving here in August, 1794 he stared construction of Fort Defiance. Here Wayne made a final effort to induce the Indians to make a treaty, but was rebuffed. He then moved down the Maumee river and decisively defeated the Indians at the Battle of Fallen Timbers near the present Waterville, O.

This defeat, supplemented by the treaty of Greenville, resulted in opening the Northwest to settlement.

The special marker for the parkway was designed and developed by the state highway department's division of traffic and safety, in cooperation with the parkway board.

Members of the board, appointed by the governor, are: Dr. Reuben Hilty, Toledo; J. Oliver Amos, Sidney; Fred D. Voppeck, Greenville; Ferd J. Winkeljohn, Celina; Miles S. Kuhns, Dayton, and Ralph W. Peters, Defiance.

GI Post Auxiliary Executive Board Meets

A meeting of the executive board of the Auxiliary to Marion GI Post No. 584, American Legion, was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. J. C. Marks on Davids street. Plans were made to use a sum of $50 to fill food baskets for needy families for Christmas.

An announcement was made that only four members are needed by the auxiliary to meet the number required by Dec. 26 to earn the national president's citation. A meeting of all committees of the post and auxiliary making arrangements for the children's Christmas party, will be held Dec. 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the post club rooms.

During the social hour, refreshments were served from a table decorated in keeping with the holiday season. A Christmas gift exchange was held. The next meeting will be Dec. 21.

FARM CLUB MEETS

A discussion on swine herd management and feeding was held at a meeting of the Pleasant Young Farmers group Thursday night, Dec. 2. Making up the panel were three men of the community who raise swine. A basketball game followed the meeting. At the next meeting, Dec. 9, the topic for discussion will be the raising and feeding of dairy cattle.

Most birds in the temperate zones raise a new crop of feathers twice a year.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Treatment of Liver Disorder.

With the increasing frequency of liver disorders, particularly in those of middle age and older, it is important that abnormal conditions be discovered as early as possible, because, with proper treatment, the progress of many of these disorders may be checked. There are a number of tests which can be made to determine the manner in which the liver is carrying on its many activities and which aid the doctor in determining what medical or surgical treatment may be required.

Just which of the tests should be carried out depends, to some extent, on the symptoms present.

For example, if the patient has jaundice due to a collection of bile pigments in the blood and tissues, a large series of tests is suggested. Some of these include testing of the urine for the presence of certain bile pigments. Another test is made on the blood to determine the amount of bilirubin, a bile pigment, in the blood serum. It is important to determine the amount of cholesterol in the blood, since the cholesterole may be excessive in certain disorders producing jaundice. Cholesterol is a substance which is found throughout the body, and is normally present in the blood.

Another test commonly used is known as the bromsulfalein test. The bromsulfalein, a dye, is injected into a vein and the amount retained in the body determined at the end of 40 minutes. The bromsulfalein test is not used when jaundice is present.

If, by means of these various tests, the exact type of disorder of the liver cannot be determined it may be necessary to remove a small bit of tissue from the liver for examination under the microscope. This material can be obtained by what is known as a needle biopsy in which a large needle is pushed through the abdominal wall into the liver so that some of the liver tissue can be carried out. This procedure should be done only in a hospital and only when it is certain that the blood clots properly, since there is always danger of bleeding in this type of procedure.

If the tissue cannot be secured satisfactorily in this manner, it may be necessary to open the abdomen surgically to obtain the liver tissue for examination.

Persons having symptoms of liver disorder should consult their physician promptly so that the necessary tests may be carried out to determine what disorder is present. In middle-aged and older persons such tests should be made one or twice a year, even if no symptoms are present.

EARLY RETURN ON YULE SEALS ASKED

Contributions Lagging Behind Last Year.

A plea for early return of the contributions to the 1948 Christmas Health Seal sales was made today by the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health association. To date, the returns are lagging behind those at the same date last year, Mrs. Walter E. Miley, executive secretary, reported today.

Contributions received in return letters to date amount to $2,644.10, the report shows. This is $24.20 behind the amount recorded on the same date last year and less than half of Marion county's quota of $5,500.

It is hoped that contributors will include in their Christmas list the Christmas Health seals and make early returns of their contributions, Mrs. Miley said today. Follow up letters, serving as reminders, will be mailed Dec. 15, she stated.

BRAIN TRUST—Eight of 20 contest club members with booty.

• • •

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—If two heads are better than one, then 20 heads should make the prizes roll in.

That is the general idea behind the San Diego contest club. Its 20 members are multiple winners in radio and other contests. Their collection of prizes would fill a display room.

A few brought to a meeting by eight members gives an idea. They, of course, had to leave the stoves, refrigerators, pianos and other larger items at home. And the automobiles outside.

Once a month the club members meet and exchange ideas and compare winnings. It helps them, they say, to keep up a winning average. One success in a hundred tries they consider very good.

Most of the members are women, who carry on their contesting between hours of household duties or office work. But a man, C. O. Harper, is the club's most steady winner.

Harper, employed in the city police department's identification bureau, has a prize radio in every room of his home. He and Mrs. Harper count on a prize about every week even if it's only a theater ticket.

The club, which is a member of the National Contesters association, has other objectives than just winning.

Mrs. Leora Deary, president, says one major purpose is to keep contesting on a high plane by guarding against "rackets or questionable practices."

ATTEND CONVENTION

UPPER SANDUSKY—Wyandot county Clerk of Courts Paul Enders is attending the three-day convention of court clerks of Ohio at the Deshler-Wallick hotel in Columbus. The convention is one of several meetings of state associations of county officials. Recorder Alan Bolyard and Deputy Alice Harmon attended Tuesday's session of the recorders' conference. The Misses Dorothy Border and Mary Theresa Bue attended the Wednesday and Thursday meetings of the auditors' convention. County Treasurer Karl F. Kraus was present at the treasurers' meeting last week.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Three public libraries have moved the story of Cinderella from the fable to fact shelf in view of the current spy news.

• • •

Since a red herring turned into a pumpkin in plain sight there is no further reason to doubt that a pumpkin turned into a golden coach.

• • •

But it is disconcerting after we have been assured the country is spy-free to find pictures of Navy yards turning up in our pie filling.

• • •

Now many who had indigestion after Thanksgiving are wondering whether their trouble was overeating turkey or overexposed film.

• • •

I heard the FBI has rushed an order for blue jeans, mud boots and a voice teacher who can say "Wal I swan" with a pumpkin-patch accent.

• • •

But there is no truth to the rumor that apple growers are afraid to peel their Northern Spy crop.

Galion Lions Club Holds Charter Night Party

Special to The Star

GALION — "Speed, and Four Questions," was the title of an inspiring address by George Bormuth of Columbus, state secretary of the Lions club, principal speaker for the first annual charter night party of the Galion Lions club Tuesday at the Moose hall. His talk pertained to our present way of living, and the effect of speed on our daily and religious life.

Covers were laid for 50 members and guests for the dinner and program. Robert C. Hillier was toastmaster; C. Floyd King spoke to the group on the progress made by the Lions club in the past year; and selections were sung by the Galion Clippers, a Barber Shop quartet.

Richard Myers presented a show of magic. R. N. Brentlinger, president of the club extended greetings. A burlesque on the Andrews Sisters was presented by the Andruski trio (members of the Barber Shop chorus of Galion). Entertainment from Marion, Columbus and Richwood.

Arrangements were in charge of C. Floyd King, O. E. Allen and Samuel Whaley. Guests were present from Marion, Columbus and Galion.

Stalin Is Host To Eisenhower, Voices Friendliness to U. S.

* * *

By DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

(Copyright, 1948, by Doubleday and Company, Inc.)

29. Visit to Moscow.

THE United States and Russia emerged from the war the two most powerful nations of the globe. This fact affected every detail of American official routine in conquered Germany, for any prolonged struggle between the two powers would hopelessly complicate our local problems and might even nullify our costly victory. But there was involved far more than efficiency in German administration or political control.

In the past relations of America and Russia there was no cause to regard the future with pessimism. Historically, the two peoples had maintained an unbroken friendship that dated back to the birth of the United States as an independent republic. Except for a short period, their diplomatic relations had been continuous. Both were free from the stigma of colonial empire building by force.

Ideologically, however, they were in diametric opposition; the United States was devoted to a social and political order based upon individual liberty and human dignity; Russia, dedicated to the dictatorship of the proletariat, seemed in Western eyes to be engulfed in a form of statism under the absolute direction of a few men. By the same token, it is probable that to them our adherence to a system based upon personal liberty was actually a political immaturity that permitted exploitation of the masses. Out of this cleavage between the governmental systems of two great powers there might develop in the world two hostile camps whose differences would ultimately provoke another holocaust of war.

"IKE" ARRIVES IN MOSCOW. Marshal Gregory Zhukov and General of the Army Eisenhower (right) salute as the American and Russian National anthems are played at Moscow airport after the American military man arrived in the Soviet capital on August 11. General Eisenhower was honored by Generalissimo Stalin when he was invited to stand beside Stalin on a platform atop Lenin's tomb to review a parade of 40,000 Soviet athletes. He was the first American ever honored with such an invitation.

Berlin, we were convinced, was an experimental laboratory for the development of international accord. There the West was joined with the East in the task of reorganizing a highly complex economy and re-educating a numerous people to political decency so that Germany, purged of its capacity an dwill for aggression, might be restored to the family of nations.

* * *

IF IN THAT endeavor there could be developed friendly ways and means of solving our local differences and problems, a long step forward would be taken toward the friendly settlement of world problems. Overshadowing al lgoals for us Americans was the contribution we locally might make toward establishing a working partnership between the United States and Russia.

Our chief hope was to build among those engaged in the German occupation a friendly acceptance of each other as individuals striving peacefuly to attain a common understanding and common purpose — our mutual good.

Once that spirit could be developed in Berlin it would spread beyond Germany to our own capitals. The international good feeling manifested at Potsdam between the heads of states was a favorable start.

The President and his staff left Germany for the United States on August 2. A few days later I was informed from Washington that Generalissimo Stalin had sent me an invitation to visit Russia. This was a renewal of an invitation that originally had come to me in early June, when I could not accept because of a necessary appearance in the United States under War Department orders. With this invitation came an expression of my government's hope that I could accept.

When news of my impending visit got around headquarters, literally scores of individuals submitted personal requests to go with me. Out of consideration for Moscow's limited accomodations I took on this journey only General Clay and my old friend Brigadier General T. J. Davis. As an aide for this one trip I wanted my lieutenant son, John, who had been serving for some months in the European theater. His commander approved.

* * *

UPON ARRIVAL in Moscow we were housed at the American Embassy with my good friend Averell Harriman, who was then ambassador. His hostess was his charming daughter, Kathleen. During a long war association I had formed a high opinion of Mr. Harriman's abilities and public-spirited attitude and was delighted to have him as my mentor and guide during an important visit to a country in which I was a complete stranger.

Our first conference was with General Antonov, Chief of Staff of the Red Army. He took me into his war room and explained the dispositions of the Red armies in the Far East and showed me the exact plan of campaign, which had been initiated only a few days before.

Everywhere in the Manchurian area things were going according to plan and Antonov was confident of a quick and easy victory. We discussed military subjects until late in the evening, all in an atmosphere of greatest cordiality and mutual confidence.

The following morning was the appointed time for the big Sports Parade. This was staged in the Red Square, a paved area of considerable acreage. The only people present were the specially invited guests of the government and the performers.

Estimates as to the number of the latter varied betwen twenty and fifty thousand. I calculated that the lower figure was more nearly correct than the higher one.

Just after we had arrived at the raised section of concrete reserved for the American ambassador and his party, General Antonov came to say that Generalissimo Stalin had extended to me an invitation to join him on top of Lenin's tomb, provided I should like to do so.

Since I was in the company of the American ambassador, whose prestige as representative of the President was important, I was doubtful as to the propriety of deserting him to join the Generalissimo.

* * *

THE NECESSITY of saying everything through an interpreter denied me my opportunity to ask General Antonov, on a personal basis, for further details, and I momentarily hesitated. However, he relieved the situation by giving me the remainder of the Generalissimo's message, which was: "The Generalissimo says that if you would like to come he also invites two of your associates, if you would like to bring them."

I turned to consult quickly with the ambassador. He said that the invitation was precedent-making; to the best of his knowledge, no other foreigner ha dever been invited to set foot on top of Lenin's tomb. Realizing, therefore, that a special courtesy was intended, I quickly told General Antonov that I would be happy indeed to accept and that the associates I wanted were the ambassador and the head of the United States Military Mission to Moscow, Major General John R. Deane.

We stood for five hours on the tomb while the show went on. None of us had ever witnessed anything remotely similar. The groups of performers were dressed in the colorful costumes of their respective countries and at times thousands of individuals performed in unison. Every kind of folk dance, mass exercise, acrobatic feat, and athletic exhibition was executed with flawless precision and, apparently, with greatest enthusiasm. The band was said to number a thousand pieces, and it played continuously, presumably by sections, during the entire five-hour performance.

* * *

THE GENERALISSIMO showed no sign of fatigue. On the contrary, he appeared to enjoy every minute of the show. He invited me to his side and, through an interpreter, we conversed intermittently during the entire period of the show.

He evinced great interest in the industrial, scientific, educational, and social achievements of America. He repeated several times that it was necessary for Russia to remain friends with the United States.

Speaking through the interpreter, he said in effect: "There are many ways in which we need

TRUSTEES ELECTED BY COUNTY GROUP

Fish and Game Association Elects Board.

A board of trustees was named and a talk given by David Papier of the Ohio Conservation department, Columbus, at a meeting of the Marion County Fish and Game Association Tuesday night in the Eagles' hall. Elected as trustees were Robert Cleveland, Sheriff Leroy Retterer, L. R. Amrine and Ronald Selanders.

Mr Papier gave a report on the investigation of pollution of the Scioto river in Marion county. Lon I. Smith of the Wightman Grove Sportsmen's club at Fremont was a guest.

Present were several residents of farms along the Little Scioto river who described conditions of pollution following seasons when the river overflows and leaves refuse on the land which destroys the vegetation.

EISENHOWER

American help. It is our great task to raise the standards of living of the Russian people, which have been seriously damaged by the war. We must learn all about your scientific achievements in agriculture. Likewise, we must get your technicians to help us in our engineering and construction problems, and we want to know more about mass production methods in factories. We know that we are behind in these things and we know that you can help us."

The Generalissimo turned the conversation to the work of the Berlin Council and remarked that it was important not only because of its specific task but because it provided a testing ground to determine whether great nations victors in a war, could continue to co-operate effectively in the problems of peace.

I said to the Generalissimo: "Of course Marshal Zhukov and I get along splendidly. This is because great and powerful countries like yours and mine can afford to give their proconsuls in the field a sufficient amount of authority to achieve accord in local details and administrative matters. Smaller or weaker countries might possibly find it impossible to do this and difficulties would arise. But because Marshal Zhukov and I have such great leeway in reaching agreement we two usually overcome the little obstacles we encounter."

The Generalissimo agreed with me emphatically. He said, "There is no sense in sending a delegate somewhere if he is merely to be an errand boy. He must have authority to act."

• • •

A FINAL REMARK of the Generalissimo's while we were watching the sports spectacle was that mass athletics and exercises were fine because of their effect upon the populace. He said, "This develops the war spirit. Your country ought to do more of this," and then he added: "We will never allow Germany to do this." At that moment we were still at war with the Japanese.

The social highlight of the Moscow trip was dinner at the Kremlin. In the glittering dining hall there was an array of Red Army marshals, with Mr. Molotov present, and a number of Foreign Office officials to act as interpreters. Officers of my party attended, as did the ambassador and General Deane.

Toasts were many, each of them directed to the spirit of co-operation and teamwork that had been gradually evolved during the war. After dinner we saw a movie. It was a picture of the Russian operations to capture Berlin, in which, battle the interpreter told me, they had used twenty-two divisions and an enormous concentration of artillery.

I expressed an interest in the picture and the Generalissimo promptly said he would give me a copy. I suggested that I should also like a picture of himself and he forgot neither detail. Within a few days I received in Berlin the complete movie film together with a generously inscribed photograph of the Generalissimo.

He asked that I extend to General Marshall an expression of his personal regret for an act of what he termed personal rudeness during the progress of the war. He said that once he had received from General Marshall a piece of information concerning the enemy that later turned out to be false and occasioned some embarrassment to the Red armies.

• • •

IN HIS IRRITATION, he said, he sent a sharp radio message to General Marshall, but later regretted this because of his confidence that Marshall was acting in good faith. He earnestly charged me with the errand of conveying his expressions of regret to the Chief of Staff.

"On the night before we left Moscow the American ambassador gave a reception for the visiting party. It was a stag affair and Russian guests were mainly individuals from the Foreign Office and the armed services.

There were the usual toasts, followed by a supper, in the midst of which the ambassador received an urgent call to come to the Foreign Office at once. Suspecting that we might obtain news of a Japanese surrender, momentarily expected, Mr. Harriman asked me to do my best to hold all the guests.

On his return he walked to the middle of the room and announced the Japanese surrender, which brought a joyous shout of approval from all the Americans present. But I noted that old Marshal Budenny, who was standing at my side, did not seem to exhibit any great enthusiasm. I asked him whether he was not glad the war was over and he replied, "Oh yes, but we should have kept going until we had killed a lot more of those insolent Japanese."

The marshal seemed to be a most congenial, humane and hospitable type but at the same time he seemed to have no concern that even one day's continuance of war meant death or wounds for additional hundreds of Russian citizens.

• • •

DURING THE WAR I had heard much of the magnificent defense of Leningrad in 1941 and 1942. In expressed a desire to visit that city briefly in the siege of Leningrad 250,000 civilians, according to the Russian records, died of starvation. Many more were killed and wounded. These figures were constantly recited to our visiting party by civilian officials of Leningrad who joined the military commanders to act as our local hosts.

The mayor of the city had us for luncheon with a number of civil and military leaders of the region. Russian artists were there to entertain us. We listened to vocal and instrumental music, to dramatic recitations—which, of course, we could not understand—and watched some beautiful dancing.

I remarked to my host that I was struck by the universal respect for artists in Russia and the extraordinary appreciation that every one, from highest to lowest, seemed to have for art in all its forms. My host replied that any Russian would cheerfully go hungry all week if by doing so he could, on Sunday, visit an art gallery, a football game, or the ballet.

• • •

In the last installment of his 'Crusade in Europe,' which will be published tomorrow, General Eisenhower sums up his conclusions about the Red army, about the Soviet Union, about communism, and about the present challenge to America. He debated communism and the western tradition of personal liberty with Marshal Zhukov in Berlin and he has thought deeply since then of the contemporary meaning of our successes and our failures in wartime coalition with the Russians.

Love's Perilous Path

THERE was a note of alarm ... Ducky's voice ... I ... did not realize he was ... it, which ... me. I ... my breath ... felt ... I never would let ... again ... listened for Harry Underwood's reply.

"Yes and no," he ... "He ... take X with him ... did he take him ... away. He took X aside and gave him some ... didn't see fit to confide to me ... the big man grinned ... knowledge of my father's ... constitutional penchant for keeping ... one trusted assistant ignorant of another's doings. Then X ... daddled out of there fast, leaving the prisoner to the care of Gus and another guard.

"The Chief instructed them to watch the man very carefully, but to feed him well, and make him as comfortable as possible. We had taken his gag out as soon as we took him out of the sack, but we didn't unhobble him, and the Chief told Gus he would have to feed the man as if he were a baby."

"But Dad!" Ducky's eyes ... impatiently. "You haven't said yet ... he went alone."

He ... "I ... was ... another ... fear that he was as anxious about my father as I was.

"Harry Underwood said slowly, 'He went to Boone. He ... you ... me to come down to the bureau. But I must tell you ... not ... the ... the armored cars. They went in an ... and I got the impression ... their destination was a ... mountain.'

"When he telephoned Dr. Turnbull to ask about Ducky's condition, it was a long distance call." I said, though ... stiffened ... fear, for I knew there was imminent danger to my father if he had gone without the protection of the armored car.

"Exactly," Harry said. "I'm sure he's out of town."

He looked at me shrewdly.

"Will it help any," he asked, "if I tell you that the taxi driver was a man well known to your father, and that the Chief took with him a large suitcase which I am sure held a complete disguise which would include wigs and make-up?"

"It would help immediately," I said, and Ducky said quietly, "Thanks a million, old man." But there was an elusive nuance in his voice which roused my fears again.

... a ... boys ... often. Mr. ... had not taken ... a ... [illegible] ... friend ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ... as a ... to my fears.

But I could not ... in the ... and I was glad when Ducky put a question ... intended to switch the conversation to another ... "And to what ... did he assign you, out ... [illegible]

Band Shell and Barn Converted Into Home

By The United Press

MARATHON, Wis. — Mr. and Mrs. John Coates should be prepared to raise a musical family.

The Coates home was built out of a band shell which they bought from a nearby town park for $15. To close the open side, they used parts from barns in which many a barn dance had been held.

Unable to find a house or the money to finance a regular one, Coates bought and built his own. A plumber and a furnace man, called in for part of one day, were the only helpers Coates had.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Yes Sir, Insomnia's Contagious!

When Bud Swanson had trouble sleeping nights, and tried to get over it by turning up the radio full blast, he started an epidemic of insomnia all down the block!

Folks finally dropped a hint to Bud that he close the windows or turn the radio a little lower. Bud did—and that was the quickest cure for other folks' insomnia I've ever heard of!

Not that any of us object to the radio, or swing bands, or anything else that helps another person relax of an evening. (Myself, I like a glass of beer with a bit of cheese before I go to bed. I can't speak for you.)

From where I sit, good neighborliness means nothing more than simply respecting the other person's tastes and rights — without forcing your own tastes or opinions down his throat. And that goes for Bud's radio, my glass of beer, or whatever temperate pleasure you happen to enjoy.

Rules Are Listed To Reduce Yule Tree Fire Risk

"Don't let Christmas joy turn into tragedy because of fire!"

To keep this from happening the Ohio Fire Safety Council through its Marion county chairman John F Smith, has prepared a list of safety rules to reduce fire hazards. The rules sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and approved by Marion Fire Chief Owen A Sifritt, are as follows

Your Christmas tree—will it be a symbol of joy or a blazing death torch? Your tree can burn up completely in two minutes Once on fire it is almost impossible to put out The reason for this is because it is full of highly inflammable pitch and resin A lighted candle, burning match or cigaret, frayed or defective electric cord—any of these, in a flash, can turn your Christmas tree into a roaring inferno Far too many American homes are swept by this tragedy every Christmas Don't let it happen to your family Keep your Christmas merry Here's how you can do it.

1 Choose a small tree . . the smaller the tree the less the hazard Keep it away from radiators, heater, fireplace.

2 Avoid cotton, paper or other flammable material for decorations Never use candles.

3 Discard frayed strings of lights Use wiring that bears the Underwriters' Laboratories seal Change location of lights if needles turn brown

4 Dispose of gift wrappings promptly

5 Avoid smoking and use of matches nearby

6 When needles begin to fall take down your tree

Clip these suggestions and keep them for your guide every year, and if you do fire will not kill 1,000 people this month as it usually does

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

TB FUNDS URGENTLY NEEDED

Editor of The Star I would like to call the attention of your readers to the report on the tuberculosis clinic which you published several nights ago

There is not sufficient money to send away for treatment several persons who suffer from the disease These persons face not only tragedy in their own lives but they are a source of danger to every one of us I would therefore like to urge everyone to contribute generously to the sale of Christmas seals

I would also like to suggest to members of the Garden club that the proceeds from the display of the Lustron home be given to the tuberculosis fund rather than to the Garden club The work of the Garden club is certainly worthy, but hardly to be compared, I feel, with the saving of human life I urge others to follow my lead in promoting this change

PHILADELPHIA — A seven-year plan brought Joseph Schofield the cabin cruiser he always had dreamed about.

For two years the steel technician studied every book on boat-building. The next five years he spent building the 35-foot craft.

Schofield had no professional assistance in building the boat in his backyard. His son Joseph and his daughter, Fora May, gave him a hand and the craft now wears the name Jo-Fo.

Schofield said the boat cost him $1,600. He estimates that a comparable craft would cost at least $5,600 at today's prices. The engine and a few fixtures are the only parts which are new.

"Pumpkin Heads"

THE SYMBOLISM of the hollowed-out pumpkin in the latest flare-up of long-smoldering evidence of official incompetence during the thirties is perfect.

Those were lush days for "punkin heads" and "punkin-headedness." Washington was jampacked with people who had no more idea than a rabbit about the things they were supposed to be doing. Scattered among them were sharp-eyed smoothies who knew exactly what they wanted to do and did it systematically. They kicked the dignity of the federal government squarely in its official teeth and laughed themselves to sleep every night because they were permitted to get away with it.

The official guard was dropped to admit into high places creatures who couldn't have won a rigged vote for township trustee in their own balliwicks. Thousands of these specimens were foisted onto a public which gagged on them, but was helpless to do anything but complain bitterly and be called insulting names for daring to question the omniscience and the intentions of bureaucratic upstarts.

Today, glint-eyed hopefuls are saying that there's going to be another bloodless revolution in Washington like the one that took place in the thirties; that once more the national capital will be taken over by hordes of do-gooders with big ideas and small abilities. Perhaps the new bloodless revolution will be postponed a blessed interval while the white-wings of investigation finish cleaning up the mess created by the other one.

Pocketbook Issue

GEN. CARL A. SPAATZ, who retired as air chief of staff last spring so he could speak his mind on the issue of a divided air force, is reported ready to start blasting.

At the same time it's reported that President Truman is going to submit the first combined military budget in U.S. history next month. The two reports both have bearing on a pocketbook issue of extreme importance.

When Gen. Spaatz retired, he served notice on military authorities that he "would be their mortal enemy if they tried to saddle the people of the country with two air forces." Mr. Truman's combined military budget would be an attempt to eliminate duplication, overlapping and waste in national defense. The President is striving to hold all military spending within a limit of $15,000,000,000. That would mean fewer planes for somebody.

If the pocketbook issue of military costs is allowed to develop in the open, where taxpayers can follow it, there will be no room for doubt that the United States is in danger of overcommitting itself on armaments. It is that danger which unification of the armed services was primarily designed to set aside. The truth is that this country no longer can afford the luxury of defending itself extravagantly. It must somehow bring efficiency into national defense—not cheese-paring economy, but costs within the people's ability to bear them without damage.

History tells of many powerful nations which weakened themselves by spending too much money on armaments. Like the United States today, they sensed the danger of their military inefficiency. But they could do nothing about it. The United States, if it's lucky, will do something about it.

That will be the underlying meaning of the pocketbook issue over military spending. It will be given various names, but it will be essentially the stark, cold question of how to satisfy the demands of the military establishment without going broke.

"The Way Things Are Now"

ONE of those roundup stories out of Washington the other day said high government officials see nothing ahead but trouble for the next 10 years. Tensions will mount. Fears will double and redouble. No one will be able to say, "Everything's just the way we hoped it would be."

The story failed to mention that the next 10 years, as far as being jittery is concerned, will be no different from the preceding 10 years. In fact, if one tries to think back to a time when jitters were unknown it becomes apparent that there never was such a time. Then, if one looks ahead, considering only the known and established causes of human jitters, he is likely to conclude there never can be such a time.

While it's common for people to think of their immediate problems as being somehow worse than anything previously experienced by mankind, "The way things are now" is not necessarily worse at all. If it must be assumed there now is a crisis—and perhaps there is—then it must be assumed that at some other time within memory there was not a crisis. A crisis is a high point, which means that it cannot be continuous.

There may be nothing but trouble ahead for the next 10 years. But that does not constitute a crisis. There has been nothing but trouble ahead for the last 10,000 years in the gloomy view of those who, when looking ahead, see nothing but trouble.

Victory by Plurality

By David Lawrence

No Mandate from Majority Seen for Truman

THE expression so often heard after elections that "the majority of the American people" have spoken seems not to have been accurate as to the presidential election of Nov. 2 last. Actually a majority of the people voted against President Truman as their Chief Executive for the next four years.

Mr. Truman will be known in history as a "minority" president—the first in that category in 32 years.

For the latest tabulation of election returns by the United Press shows that 24,684,517 people voted against Mr. Truman and 24,047,305 voted for him. Thus by 407,212 votes Mr. Truman failed to win a majority.

If, however, the Thurmond, Wallace and Truman votes are added up and considered as segments of the Democratic party vote, it will be found that the votes not cast for Dewey totaled 28,284,903 or 4,486,275 more than the number who voted for Governor Dewey.

Thus the strength of the Democratic party—or, if it be preferred, the non-Republican vote—is nearly 4,500,000 votes larger than that of the Republican party.

• • •

IN SOME STATES no states rights balloting was permitted so that persons who disapproved of the Truman civil-rights program had no means of expression, as they did in most southern states.

In some northern states, like Illinois, where the Wallace candidacy was kept off the ballot or in Ohio where the confusion of independent electors was present and the same chance to vote for Wallace was not clearly given as in other states, it is possible to say that the votes cast for Truman did not reflect the wishes of those voters who did not care for Dewey or Truman.

There is small comfort in the fact that the Democratic party had more than 4,000,000 majority, when that same majority is made up of persons in the states rights group and persons from the left-wing Wallace camp.

• • •

WHEN AN ATTEMPT is made, moreover, to find the "mandate" of the last election, the task is even more difficult. For with a President who was able, with a minority of the popular votes, to obtain a majority of the electoral college votes, just which policies were wanted by a majority of the people are by no means easy to determine.

Anyone who says that Mr. Truman reflects the desires of the states rights voters because they were formerly Democrats, or the wishes of the Wallace voters who probably also were Democrats four years ago, ignores altogether the cleavage inside the Democratic party.

Likewise, there were persons in the South who did not make an issue of the civil rights program but who, as Democrats, reflect still the point of view of their Democratic senators and representatives who have a record of having opposed Mr. Truman on the Taft-Hartley law and on tax revision.

• • •

IT MAY BE DOUBTED also whether the millions of voters of the conservative school in the South go along with the proposals now being offered for radical changes in the tax laws and particularly the imposition of punitive tax measures. For these reasons, it is inaccurate to say that a majority of the American people have voted either for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act or for the revival of the excess-profits tax law. The claim that the majority supported Truman will doubtless be made just the same—and largely because the exact figures of the way the ballots are cast are rarely given as much publicity as the electoral college votes on the night of the election.

Mr. Truman has won fairly by a plurality rather than a majority of the votes—but he has received no "mandate" whatsoever from the majority because the majority of the people did not vote for him.

Daily Bible Thought

Our very bodies function through the operation of millions of precise processes, very few of which we understand. There is nothing accidental about any part of our being: "I will praise thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made, marvelous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well."—Psalm 139:14.

Vanishing Savings

By Raymond Moley

IN a recent column I suggested that one of the important immediate brakes on inflation is the great mass of people who voted for Truman in the belief that he would reduce prices if given a new term and a congress to his liking.

Those people may be waiting for an economic miracle and consequently, are holding over their buying until next year. This group may be called the hopeful half of the nation, if we adopt Roosevelt's habit of dividing the nation into convenient fractions.

But since the late President first talked about "one-third" of the nation," a lot of money has gone by the mill. And the identity of the submerged one-third has greatly changed.

The delayed spending of the hopeful half of the nation will be only temporary, for its very delay will check prices and induce new spending.

• • •

BUT ANOTHER FRACTION of the nation, variously estimated at something like a fifth, will not resume spending. That is the group with small fixed incomes derived from pensions, insurance, permanent investments and white-collar salaries.

This group is seriously and perhaps permanently injured. it has been expropriated by so-called reform measures designed to lift Roosevelt's "one-third." Perhaps if Roosevelt had been more explicit in his political examination of his third, he would have recognized this very group that 16 years have reduced to semi-poverty.

For this group is getting no better fast. The most recent Federal Reserve figures on savings throw a lot of light on the economic situation of these people. In the three years since the war, the lowest third among the spending units of the nation was saving less at a rapidly accelerating rate. The Federal Reserve has this to say:

"In 1946 the largest proportions of spending units reporting net withdrawals in liquid assets and increases in debt were in the income group of $2,000 to $2,999. Comparison with 1946 data indicates that the larger number of dis-savers at higher income levels in 1947 resulted from more frequent use of accumulated savings and credits."

This group is not staging a buyer's strike. It is suffering a price lockout. Many in this group used to believe they were middle-class people. The fact is that a large part of the so-called middle-class has been economically liquidated. And the net effect of this, reflected in lines like clothing and household furnishings, is now glaringly evident in sales at cut prices.

• • •

THIS IS THE GROUP which is most seriously threatened by the prospects of a fourth round of wage increases demanded by the stronger and best-paid unions. It also is threatened by measures involved in the Truman promises—more spending and more support for agricultural prices.

Another group, for which less public concern will be shown, is the group which enjoys higher incomes. In 10 years, the $5,000-$10,000 man has suffered a tax and inflation expropriation of about 50 per cent.

The $25,000 man, once among the opulent of the land, now has $10,000 left after taxes and increases in prices. He is about 60 per cent less opulent than he was in 1938. And while no wolf haunts his door, yet he greatly curtails his spending and in many cases is cutting into savings and borrowing money.

The Harry Hopkins saga is full of incidents in which the Presidential confidant threatened his well-to-do friends with this fate. He was speaking by the book. And since his death his prediction has been growing more and more accurate.

What was not told by Hopkins and his boss was that in whittling down the opulent, they also were impoverishing a large part of their "one-third of the nation."

Educated Elite

From the Washington Post.

TEN months ago the President's Commission on Higher Education issued its report under the title "Higher Education for American Democracy."

Among other things it recommended a 170-per cent increase in enrollment in the various graduate and professional schools in order to meet a predicted need for more doctors, nurses, teachers, and the like.

President Conant of Harvard has now issued a "report" of his own entitled "Education in a Divided World." It covers more ground than the commission's study and parallels it in many respects. But on the question of graduate and professional education President Conant takes explicit issue with the commission.

Instead of encouraging more young men and women to take four-year college courses and go on to professional training, Dr. Conant would shunt them off the educational track at the end of high school. By then, he asserts, a student's educational capacities and vocational talents can be ascertained and his further education or lack of it determined accordingly. Only those destined for the professions should have four years of college as a preparation for graduate specialization.

President Conant rests his argument most heavily on the test of ability. But he brings in also a consideration that seems to us both inconsistent and damaging. If we educate more doctors, lawyers, engineers and teachers than our economy can support, there will be a remainder who do not get jobs. These "frustrated individuals," he contends might become leaders of antidemocratic movements of the right or the left.

The inconsistency lies in the fact that Dr. Conant has already provided, in his scheme of selective education, for all students at the elementary level to be thoroughly indoctrinated in the ideals and practices of democracy. If this is successful, and if only a high school education is enough for the masses to preserve democracy, then the leaders whom Dr. Conant fears will have no followers.

By the same token, unless higher education weans them away from principles they imbibed in grade and high school—which we greatly doubt—their leadership can not very well be antidemocratic. If we recall correctly, the foremost leaders of the Nazi and the Fascist movements were less rather than more educated. And for our money the men in charge in the Kremlin don't show a very broad or high level of understanding either.

Whatever the decision as to broadening educational opportunities may be, we do not think that college education should be limited because of any fear that it might be dangerous to democracy.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Dec. 9, 1938.

Motion picture executives and players were signing a "declaration of independence" calling upon President Roosevelt and congress to sever economic relations with Germany.

Work on Richwood's new $180,000 school building was progressing it was reported by R. C. Rehard, superintendent. The building was to be completed by the following Aug. 1.

Miss Sarah Bell was elected president of the Fidelian class of St. Paul's English Lutheran church.

John R. Dugger, 68, former Marion real estate dealer and at one time manager of the old "Erie Eating House," died at his home in Toledo.

Waiting until the last half to turn on steam, Harding High's Presidents downed Delaware Willis 28-16 in a basketball game on the Senators' court at Delaware. At the Marion Steam Shovel gym, Marion St. Mary, playing brilliant defensive ball, registered a 12-6 win over St. Wendelin of Fostoria in the League of Six Nations inaugural. Harding cagers included Dunlap, Hudson, Busler, Birnbaum, Johnson, Taylor, Roberts, Irvine, Reichardt, Kirts, Hedge, Frazier and Elsey. St. Mary's lineup included Daugherty, Kelly, G. Shoup, R. Murphy, McGinnis, Nicolosi, L. Shoup, Byrnes and T. Schuler.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Dec. 9, 1928.

Dr. James D. Darling, 62, former pastor of Wesley M. E. church, died suddenly at his home on Cleveland court. Dr. Darling at one time was state Sunday school superintendent and was pastor of Wesley church until 1927 when illness necessitated his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lucas and son Billy returned to their home in Cincinnati after a visit at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Daniel F. Lawrence of Avondale avenue.

A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. David Hintze at her home on East George street.

A group of friends and relatives gave a farewell surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Marlow of Barnhart street, who were leaving soon to spend the winter in Los Angeles and Seattle.

A daughter was born Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Walters of Lee street.

Oliver R. Reynolds, 85, Civil War veteran, died at his home in Edison.

Majesty of The Law

By George E. Sokolsky

LAST September, Robert Thompson, New York state chairman of the Communist party, was assaulted with the obvious intent of assassination. More recently, a private detective entered his home and apparently attempted to assault Thompson's 7-year-old daughter during the absence of her parents. The assailant of Thompson has not been taught. The assailant of the 7-year-old daughter is known.

Robert Thompson is an avowed Communist, an important member of his party. This ought in no manner to influence the attitude of the police, the district attorney or the courts. At stake is not the question of communism but the majesty of the law in a free country. Private murders for political purposes cannot be tolerated in this country nor can assault or sex crimes be condoned because the victim is a member of an unpopular group.

• • •

APPARENTLY the authorities of Queens county take this matter too lightly. They forget that the law must be upheld and the instigators of a crime caught no matter what the beliefs of the individual. The United States does not go in for purges nor for recognizing the right of anybody to take the law in his own hands. Just as I have steadily protested against the inability of the police to discover who killed Carlos Tresca, the anarchist; who killed Scottoriggio, the Republican, on election day; who commit murder after murder on the docks of this city; so must I protest at the silence which surrounds the assault on Thompson and his young daughter.

It is the business of the authorities to discover why these assaults were made and who is responsible for them. More, it is their obligation to prove that private individuals do not assume the responsibility of enforcing society's decisions. That easily can degenerate into anarchy.

When Theodore Roosevelt was commissioner of police in New York, a famous German anti-Semite came to this country to stir up trouble for the Jews. He particularly chose the East Side of New York, then a Jewish center, to bait its inhabitants. Teddy realized that a riot would be the answer. He assigned Jewish policemen to guard the anti-Semite with the result that he had his say and there was no riot. He established the fact that in a free country even the stupid enjoy freedom of expression and that the law would be upheld.

• • •

IF THOMPSON HAS been guilty of a crime, he should be indicted by a grand jury (as he has been), prosecuted by the proper officials, and tried in a court of law according to proper procedures. There must be no short cuts about this, if we do not wish to imperil our entire system of law. If citizens believe him guilty of a crime against his country and the officials are negligent about it, those who are to be denounced are the officials. But when any citizens take the law into their own hands, they become criminals and should be treated as such. That applies to anybody.

The authorities take the stand that the assault upon Thompson's 7-year-old daughter was merely a sex crime. Maybe so. It is, however, an interesting coincidence that it occurred so close to the failure of the attempt on his life. The circumstances surrounding both assaults would surely give rise to the suspicion that they might be associated and that some individual or group is out to get Thompson because of the general resentment among Americans against Communists.

• • •

THE RESENTMENT is a natural one; taking the law privately is un-American. That distinction is important in our way of life. It is just as natural to grow uncontrollably irate in the South when a Negro rapes a white woman; yet, no one can justify lynching as a due process. Should this sort of thing be tolerated, it will not be long before "unpopularity" becomes a justification for crime, as in the Thaw case, years ago, a "brainstorm" was offered as a justification, or an undefined and undescribed "mental cruelty" is now accepted as a cause for divorce.

If the law is weakened in any link the chain of impartial, impersonal law will shatter. And then there will be neither law nor order.

—News item.

Come, speed the big steam-shovels,
Let concrete mixers fly!
A superdooper project
At Hyde Park now is nigh!
Where Franklin D. knew quiet
And peace in rustic nills
Big business makes it entrance
With all the modern frills.

II

Dig swiftly with gusto
And let the tractors roar!
Clean off the ancient landscape—
Bring on new stuff galore!
Up with a roadside lunch place—
An inn deluxe and fine—
Where nothing will be lacking
That doesn't help a shrine!

III

Make rooms for full three hundred
And spend a million cool!
Up with some smart approaches—
Make way for grill and pool!
Have esplanades and car courts
Done with a lavish sweep
Such things are, oh, so fitting
Where public idols sleep!

IV

Have terraces quite splendid,
And mails and lobbies smart
To lure the speeding tourist
By flivver, bus and cart;
A million dollars, phooey!
Who cares about such bills?
We must bring dust and turmoil
To boyhood's restful hills!

V

Hyde Park so long so tranquil ...
Those placid, tranquil slopes...
Who'd keep them there excepting
Some sentimental dopes?
Hail enterprise triumphant,
Hail contrast, deed and lease! ...
Mid dust and din and bedlam
A leader rests in peace!

Ain't It a Shame?

By Truman Twill

Here's one of the most articulate of the lady columnists, Dorothy Thompson, jumping down the collective male throat because she says girl babies don't have as bright political prospects as boy babies.

Just look at what has just happened in Egypt and Iran, she says. Reigning monarchs in those backward places have divorced their wives for failing to produce male heirs. Meanwhile in Great Britain everybody is happy because the new baby is a prince, instead of a princess.

"To get to the top in a civilized political society," Miss Thompson concludes, "women have to be born to it. Then everyone wrings his hands, moans, 'It's a girl' and enjoys a golden age."

She cites Queen Victoria, Queen Elizabeth, Catherine the Great of Russia, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and several others—all great gals in a tough racket, women who piled up dazzling records in politics.

If a mere male can chirp in for a nickel's worth, the ebullient Miss Thompson has missed the real point, which is that women by and large—also small—have had more to say about politics than men all the way through history and are at no disadvantage whatsoever.

The only important difference is that they have done their talking where it counts, instead of doing it out in front of the crowd where careless words can be thrown back in a politico's teeth. By words, by actions and especially by that old come-hither business, women have made just about all the big decisions in world history. From Eve to Eleanor Roosevelt and maybe to Bess Truman, they've been sampling apples and passing the core to the men.

With the possible exception of the occasional bachelors who have worn crowns and won mandates—"possible" because even bachelors are immune only to the trappings of marriage, not to the come-hither business—women have trimmed the kingly ego down to size, or inflated it if that's what it needed. They have told blunderbussing males what to say and how to say it and what kind of kingly gestures to practice in front of their shaving mirrors. They have fanned the spark that made men glow and on occasions they have quit fanning it, with disastrous results.

Women alone have known what they wanted done and how to get results. The princes, kings, emperors and the male moguls in politics have been putty in women's tapered fingers, and it's surprising that Miss Thompson, who's a pretty bright girl herself, should be so mixed up between the form and substance of power. What does she want women to have—everything?

PRICES DOWN ON EGGS, MEAT

Buyer Resistance, Seasonal High Poultry Consumption Held Factors.

By The Associated Press

The price of eggs and meat dropped in many parts of the nation this week.

Eggs declined as much as 10 cents a dozen in some cities as abundant supplies reached the market and demand eased. Trade circles blamed this lower demand largely on buyer resistance to high retail prices. But they also pointed to the seasonal high consumption of poultry as a factor.

"When families start eating a lot of poultry this time of year, that leaves meat in unusually heavy supply," said one trade analyst. "Then meat prices are reduced, and the folks who ordinarily use more eggs as a meat substitute turn back to meat. This in turn leaves eggs in a sluggish position marketwise."

Wholesale eggs were at their lowest level of the year in New York, with best grades down to 53 cents a dozen. This is 20 cents below the price three weeks ago.

72 Cents a Dozen

In the larger chain stores in the New York City area, large grade A white eggs were selling at 73 cents a dozen, compared with 95 cents early last month, and 80 cents last year at this time. Similar trends were noted in other large cities.

Reductions in meat prices ranged from 4 to 8 cents a pound in several cities, with the largest declines in pork and lamb. However, good veal was still relatively scarce.

Market circles expected meat prices to continue at the present comparatively low levels through the holidays. Housewives traditionally are reluctant to spend as much for food when they have Christmas shopping on their minds, these sources said, and poultry was in the seasonal limelight anyhow.

Poultry men said there were indications that turkey farmers were holding back many of their young hens for breeding purposes because of the promising feed situation for 1949. This means turkey production in 1949 may be as much as 12 per cent above this year's level—but it also means there will be fewer small turkeys around for Christmas buying.

May Climb Up

If the predictions are borne out, turkey prices during the next two weeks may climb several cents above the Thanksgiving levels.

On the other hand, there was speculation in the food trade that prices for potatoes, carrots, cabbage and onions might tumble at any time because of the topheavy supply situation for the vegetables.

Canned and dried peas and beans were being exploited as good buys in nearly every section of the country. This was the first time since before the war that these products were on the bumper supply list.

Food prices covered in Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale food index reached a new 17-month low this week at $6.33—1¢ per cent below the all-time peak of $7.36 on July 13, and 11.1 per cent below the index level of a year ago. The index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 general use foods.

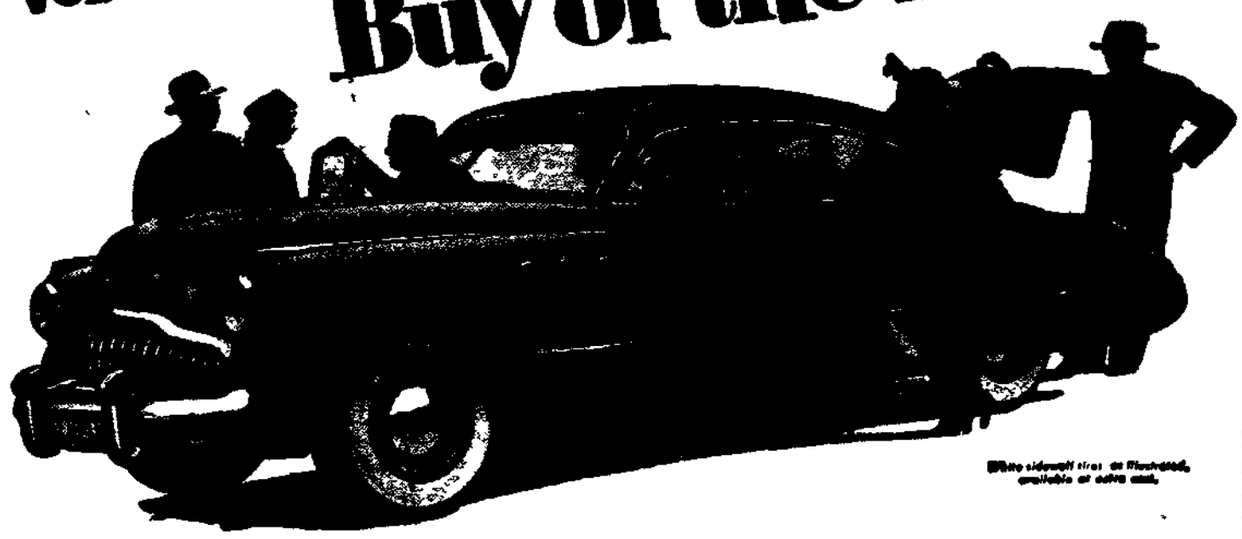
Verdict's clear—it's the Buy of the Year



It's the Buick SUPER! With Dynaflow Drive!
With new room—a new outlook—and features-by-the-fistful that make it the season's top buy!

RIGHT away you know it's a Buick—and another style ten-strike.

And even from the outside you can sense something of its new roominess, something of the wonderfully wide view-of-the-world you get from full-curved windshield, narrow corner posts and stepped-up glass area.

But that just makes a start on the good news.

For the silken magic of sensationally successful Dynaflow Drive† is available at your option on all models of this '49 SUPER.

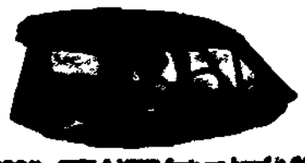
Every wheel rides on Buick's special soft coil springs. Every tire is an oversize cushion mounted on a wider-than-usual rim. And every Dynaflow model has an extra plus in self-adjusting valve lifters that keep valves seating themselves just right.

ON SOME IT ALL—with Dynaflow Drive! You just set a lever, step on the gas and steer. The power plant itself, not shifting gears, delivers the power you need — for starting, accelerating, climbing, cruising, every driving condition.

Indeed, each detail—wide swinging doors, gracefully streamlined taillights, contoured rear bumper, Hi-Poised engine, fine rich finish—marks this as the year's standout car.

And the price tag? Matched against the field, it is almost a command to get your order in.

Check it and see. Your Buick dealer will be happy to oblige—and talk business whether or not you have a car to trade.



ROOM—WITH A VIEW! Seats are broad in this new Buick. And soft, so that there's extra room overhead. And windshields are a full 56½ inches across, glass area in 4-door Sedans stepped up 22%!

†Standard equipment on ROADMASTER models. An extra-cost engineering success is optional at extra cost on all SUPERS.

Social Affairs

DR. AND MRS. C. G. SMITH entertained nurses at the Marion City hospital last evening at their home at 857 South Prospect street. During the evening Paul D. Michel showed films taken on his tours of Mexico and Guatemala. Later there was a social hour and refreshments. The hostess chose an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery, with yellow candles for the table centerpiece and presiding were Miss Irene Tinklepaugh and Mrs Frank Gage.

IN KEEPING with an annual custom, a Christmas dinner party was held by the Three Arts club last evening at the Federation Home with 40 members and guests present. The centerpiece at the main table was a large red candle surrounded by an arrangement of Christmas balls and greenery. The same arrangements in miniature centered each of the small tables at which the members and guests were seated. Mrs H. K. Ropke, president, welcomed the guests.

For the program, vocal selections were presented by Miss Florence Hayman, accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Haberman. Her numbers were "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon, and "There's a Song in the Air" by Harrington. A song fest of Christmas carols and old familiar tunes concluded the program.

Arrangements for the party were in charge of the social committee composed of Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Frank Fields and Mrs. Alfred LaPierre.

Devotions in keeping with the program theme, "Bells," were given by Mrs. Charles Sechrist at a meeting of the All Arts club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Milo Gast in Prospect. Mrs George Thomas presided for a business meeting during which plans were made for a Christmas exchange at the next meeting Mrs B. H Gast was in charge of the program which opened with a paper, "The Wonder of the Bells," by Mrs Harry Lauer, and Miss Dorothy Horn reviewed "A City of Bells," by Goudge Mrs Wilfred Knickel, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. E. Wottring, sang, "Serenade of the Bells." Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by the social committee.

Mrs. B. F Stauffer of Chestnut street was hostess when the Wide Awake club met Tuesday afternoon. In cards Mrs. Sadie Violet won first honors, Mrs Helen Scowden second and Mrs John Linn, third. Mrs. Emma Slagle received the lone hand award Mrs. Charles Winfield of Summit street will be hostess for a Christmas party and potluck dinner in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Riester of 496 Ballentine avenue celebrated their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary Sunday In observance of the occasion, open house was held in the afternoon, preceded by a family dinner at noon The table was centered with a large wedding cake and decorated with lighted tapers. The celebrants received a number of gifts.

Mrs Paul Swartz served as cohostess when Mrs. Ralph Bond entertained the Monday Night Bridge club at her home on Girard avenue Honors in cards were won by Mrs. Carl Laib and Mrs. Swartz, and a gift exchange was held The annual Christmas party will be held Dec 20 at the Snyder Hotel Refreshments were served at tables decorated with Christmas motifs. The next regular meeting, Jan. 17, will be with Mrs Robert Shively in Galion.

A Christmas meeting of the Iota Delta Study club of Child Conservation League was held Monday night in the home of Mrs Harold Henry on Merchant avenue. The club planned to fill a Christmas basket for a needy family, with Mrs Don K. Stull named chairman in charge. A commercial products demonstration was given by Mrs Darlene Hobson. Gift exchange and social hour followed.

When the Jolly Hour club met Friday evening in the home of Mrs. R. A. Titus on Olney avenue, secret sisters were revealed in a gift exchange. Guests were Mrs. E. F. Flickenger and Mrs. Elizabeth Wyatt who entertained with piano numbers Prizes in games went to Mrs. Mary Jenner, Mrs. Stella Lee and Mrs. Ray Martin. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Clarence Cramner.

In 1944, the United States imported and used more than 12,500,000 carats of industrial diamonds worth $1.81 per carat.

Dinner Dance Opens Holiday Season for Club

HOLIDAY festivities began for members of the Wednesday Night Dance club last evening when they met for dinner and dancing at Hotel Harding More than 100 couples were seated at tables arranged in the ballroom and on the mezzanine The walls were hung with greenery, Christmas bells and red and white candy striped canes and for the tables the decorations were panels of greenery with large red ribbon bows placed at intervals, and green and red lighted tapers. Later Nels Blocker's orchestra played for dancing

Mr and Mrs A A. Anderson were chairmen of the host and hostess committee and assisting were Mr and Mrs James C Woods Jr, Mr and Mrs George A Howser, Mr and Mrs LeRoy Clauer and Dr. and Mrs Richard L. Morgan, co-chairmen, Mr and Mrs Francis B Jennings, Mr and Mrs Ray R King, Mr and Mrs John F Smith, Mr. and Mrs Robert S Kraner, Mr. and Mrs Paul Schwemley, Dr and Mrs Clare W Smith, Mr and Mrs Clare E Williams, Dr and Mrs. J I. Plymale, Mr and Mrs David Pollak, Mr and Mrs Robert C Owens, Mr and Mrs John E. Peacock and Henry A True of Marion and Mr and Mrs. George E. Planck of Loudonville.

The dinner dance is an annual holiday event on the club's calendar.

OHIO TEACHERS' PAY AVERAGED $2,900

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Dec 9—Ohio's average wage for public school teachers is $2,900 a year the National Education association said yesterday

This figure is $150 above the national average, and represents a $50 increase over the Ohio average of last year

The statistics cover all classroom teachers principals and supervisors Elementary teachers in Ohio average $2,600 a year, while secondary teachers average $3,100, the NEA added

Teachers' pay, the NEA continued, has not kept pace with other professions In 1940 teachers averaged $150 more a year than the average earnings of all employed persons in the country In 1947—latest year comparable figures are available—teachers' pay was $250 less than this average

The association estimated Ohio needs 1,000 more teachers—the state now has 43,920—to handle an enrollment of 1,162,818 students It said enrollment increased 51,000 this year while only 615 teachers were added

3 Fugitives Granted Stay of Extradition

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9—Three fugitives from southern road gangs have been granted a stay of extradition by the court of appeals, keeping them out of the hands of Alabama and Florida officers until the court hears their pleas of prison camp cruelty

Frederick Fox, 21, who fled here from Florida, and Robert Frank Woodall, 31, and Eugene Quillan, 27, who fled Alabama road camps, were allowed an indefinite postponement of their return to prison sentences. All are in Cuyahoga county jail.

Demand Superintendent Of High School Resign

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O. Dec 9—School Supt Glen Powell of neighboring Tainsburg today was confronted with a demand he resign "to maintain school morale"

The demand was presented by a group of parents banded together as the Tainsburg Real Estate Owners association.

The action followed a week's strike by 135 of the high school's 160 pupils last month in protest of what they termed "Powell's high-handed methods"

Willys President May Head Tucker

By International News Service

TOLEDO, O Dec 9—It was reliably reported in Toledo today that James D Mooney, president of Willys-Overland Motors Inc will be asked within two weeks to head a proposed reorganization of Tucker Corporation.

Mooney visited the Tucker plant early last month and according to one source expressed an interest in the possibility that the Tucker industry could be salvaged under new management"

Under the suggested proposal, Mooney will not sever his connection with the Willys-Overland plant but would spend a few days a week supervising the Tucker production.

Part of Rail Steel Film Made at Pollak Plant; Premiere at Edison School.

A new industrial motion picture, Rail Steel in the World of Today," a portion of which was filmed in Marion at the Pollak Steel Co. plant will have its first Ohio showing in Marion Friday at 7:15 p. m. in the Edison Junior High school auditorium. A second showing will be held on Saturday night.

The premiere of the film, which features Lowell Thomas as narrator, will be under the auspices of the Pollak Steel Co. Marion mill management, according to R. H. Knecht, works manager. Tickets to the limit of the seating capacity of the school auditorium have been issued to Pollak employes and their families for both nights.

Dealing with the educational story of the rail steel industry in the United States and Canada the film, in color, had its international premiere at Hamilton Canada in September. It was reviewed at that time by a group of the local steel mill management. The entire film was made on location in a number of mills throughout the United States and Canada.

Story of Marion Industry

Marion interest in the production is due to the fact that it brings the story of a Marion industry to practicing and student groups of architects and engineers, the construction industry, purchasing agents, mechanical engineers and other organizations throughout the United States.

All sequences showing the raw material and hot rolling process were filmed at the local Pollak plant and some 20 Marion employes appear in the film. At the showings here, "oscars" will be presented to each of these employes.

A 16 M.M. film, with a running time of 35 minutes, the production reviews the rail steel industry from its earliest history, through the production of modern open hearth railroad rails. Then the story changes to the removal of the rails from the roadbeds and the subsequent processing in the 21 United States and Canadian mills similar to the Pollak mill here. The resulting products are then shown in their new uses as reinforcing rods in the nation's outstanding structures, as hot rolled sections in metal furniture, farm equipment, automotive parts and others.

Idea for Picture

A look into the future is also provided through animated graphs new techniques in concrete construction which will soon be in in relation to advanced design and use.

The idea for the film was originally suggested by C. L. Volkman, manager of construction materials of the Pollak company who prepared the original script and served as executive director for the Rail Steel Bar Association while he was chairman of that organization's national publicity committee. W. R. Klinkicht, Pollak company manager of rolled products, served as technical advisor.

Distribution of the film will be through the Chicago office of the Rail Steel Bar Association without charge for the film. Local, professional, civic, or luncheon clubs may arrange bookings through either E. J. Baxter or Dave Pollak.

BOYS ADMIT ARSON

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9—The fire department arson squad today said three 14-year-old boys had admitted starting a fire that caused $2,500 damage Nov. 26 to a portable classroom building here. Fire Captain William Miller said the three, all members of respectable families, had been charged with juvenile delinquency.

COLUMBUS PICKETS SENTENCED TO JAIL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Dec. 9 — Three American Zinc Oxide Co. strikers and international representatives of the CIO Smelter Workers union were found guilty yesterday of violating a court order regulating pickets.

Common Pleas Judge Charles A. Leach sentenced them to 10 days in jail. They were released on $100 bond after union attorneys appealed.

The international representative, Robert Hollowell of East St. Louis, Ill. also was fined $200 and costs. Others convicted were Haynie Bowen, president of the Columbus Oxide Workers Local, Marion Pettway and James Abbington all of Columbus.

A fifth man, Roosie Younger, was found innocent.

Judge Leach also changed a previous court order limiting the number of pickets. He said the union now may have only three pickets at the main gate and one each at the plant's three other gates. The union previously was allowed five pickets at the main gate and two at the other gates.

Leach said he found undisputed and undenied "evidence that the union had more than five pickets at the main gate several times."

The strike began Aug. 13 after the union's contract with the company expired. Company officials said they will not sign a new contract until the union's international officers sign non-Communist affidavits. Wages are not an issue.
